MEET NEW HEAD – AGED JUST 28

by Marion Brennan

A SCHOOL in Cannock has appointed the youngest head teacher in the Britain – 28-year-old Clive Lawrence. He will take over his new role at Sherbrook Primary School in the autumn.

Mr Lawrence is currently associate head at a special needs school in Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire. He said: "It doesn't seem real yet but I'm really looking forward to the exciting challenge ahead." Mr Lawrence recently completed a masters degree in special-needs education at the University of Derby.

He was told he would be the youngest head teacher in the country during a training course at the National College of Teaching and Leadership.

"I feel extremely proud to have reached my goal so soon in life," he said.

"I've always been ambitious and driven from a very young age. Since qualifying as a teacher I've wanted to be a leader as early as possible so I got involved as much as possible with the wider aspects of school life.

"People always say, 'You must be really clever', but this is simply not the case.

"I've worked hard, put in many hours and taken advantage of a range of professional development opportunities in which to enhance my own practice. I also have a very supportive mother and partner."

Forward

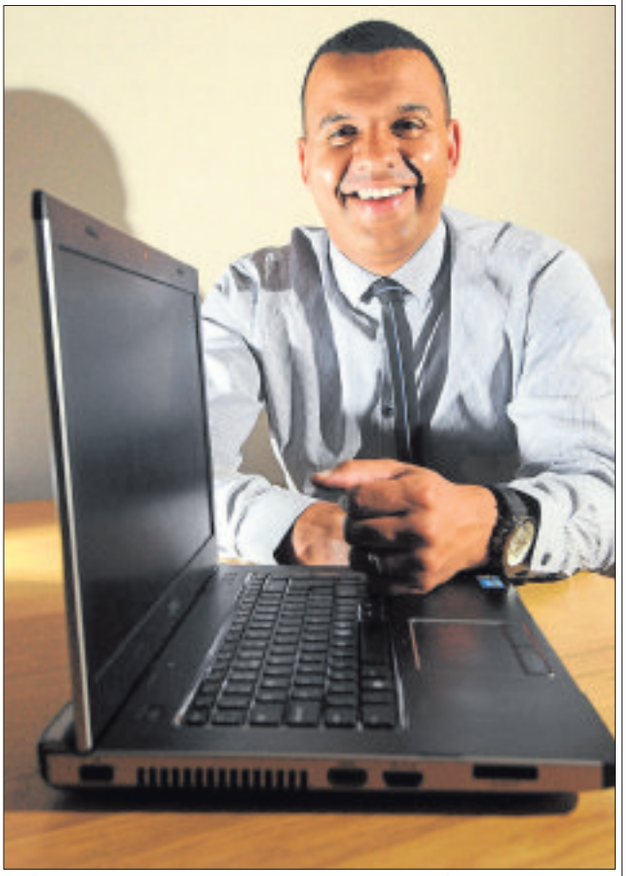
Derby-born Mr Lawrence set out his ambitions for himself and Brunswick Road school, which has just received a 'good' rating from Ofsted inspectors.

"In the short term, I want to do the best that I can in my first headship," he said.

"I'm looking forward to working closely with the governors, staff, parents and children to continue to improve outcomes for children. My aim now is to get the school an 'outstanding' Ofsted rating in the next three years. "

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "He is obviously a high and certainly impressed in his short career so far. Hopefully he will bring some good ideas for the school and new plans no doubt.

"Whether you are young or old it shouldn't make any difference and this proves it is the case."



Clive Lawrence has been appointed head teacher in Cannock at just 28

Village is set to lose fight over housing

CONTROVERSIAL plans to build 39 homes in a village near Rugeley, which will increase its population by 20 per cent, are poised for approval next week.

The scheme is for land off Uttoxeter Road, Hill Ridware, where the former Royal Oak pub stands.

Around 500 people live in Hill Ridware.

The proposal has been recommended for approval but many residents are opposed to it, saying the population of the small village will increase by 20 per cent if the homes are built.

Six neighbours and Mavesyn Ridware Parish Council have objected.

In a report to Lichfield District Council's planning committee, strategic director Richard King said: "Given the lack of a five-year housing land supply, I am of the view on balance that the development of the site for residential dwellings is acceptable.

"I note the concerns from nearby residents and the parish council in respect of the amount of traffic going through the village.

"Whilst I appreciate the concerns raised, given the lack of objection from county council highways, I am satisfied that the development would not give rise to an unacceptable impact."

The committee meets on Monday.

Newsletter is delivered

THE newsletter of the Penkridge Parish Council is now being delivered inside the Cannock Chronicle starting today, Thursday .

It will be published every two months.

News updates are also available on the Council's Facebook page.

It is hoped that a new Penkridge Parish Council website will appear this summer website, and parishioners will also be able to read an on-line copy.

Plea for help over hospital investigation

HEALTH inspectors will launch an investigation at Stafford Hospital within days after bosses appealed for help – and patients will get the chance to air their views.

The Care Quality Commission will arrive in Stafford on Monday – less than a week after the Trust Special Administrators, which run the site, asked it to step in.

Hospital chiefs said the move is due to the 'fragility' of the trust that runs the hospital and problems with staff recruitment and retention.

The formal inspection of the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust will begin on Monday. At 6.30pm a 'listening event' will be held at The Kingston Centre, Stafford, where people can talk to inspectors about their recent experiences of care and what improvements need to be made.

The CQC insists it is not a meeting about the work the TSA has been carrying out as part of the overhaul of the site that could see maternity services downgraded.

Instead it said it is an opportunity to tell CQC about current care at the trust.

It wants people who are unable to attend to share their recent experiences via www.cqc.org.uk/share-your-experience-finder or by calling 03000 616161.

Facelift project of £500k finished

AN almshouse near Rugeley has undergone a £500,000 refurbishment.

Abbots Bromley Hospital completed the project with help of a loan from Charity Bank.

It is a bank that takes savings from socially-conscious individuals and lends solely to social-purpose organisations.

Mithra Tonking, chairman of the hospital trustees, said: "We doubt if a traditional bank would have been able to provide either the loan or the bridging facility because they just aren't geared up to comprehend this very specialised housing sector."

The Abbots Bromley Hospital was built in 1705, with a bequest by local landowner Lambard Bagot.

Originally, the six residents were elderly men.

The accommodation was in considerable need of modernisation and the trustees decided to extend and modernise the listed building to create four, one-bed room units and two, two-bed homes.

The Almshouse trustees were able to fund almost £200,000 from reserves and were offered grants of £140,000. T he Almshouse Association also approved a £50,000 loan and there was an additional £118,000 loan from the Charity Bank.

Riding in for armed forces

THE newly-reformed Cannock branch of the Royal British Legion is hosting a motorbike ride to commemorate Armed Forces Day on Saturday. Its will be the branch's first event and it is hoped it will be a yearly one.

It will start at the National Arboretum, Alrewas, and will stop at the Commonwealth War Cemetery before arriving in the town centre at 10.30am for a service at 10.45am. Vintage Army vehicles will also be displayed.

Former teacher sworn in as mayor

A FORMER Great Wyrley teacher has been sworn in as Walsall's new mayor.

Long-serving borough councillor Pete Smith was Head of Business Studies at Great Wyrley High School and spent 33 years there. He was sworn in as first citizen at a mayor making ceremony in the council chamber.

The Mayoress will be his niece Laura Barnes. Councillor Smith said: "I've had a taste of what the role entails and an insight into the responsibilities of being mayor over the past 12 months when I've been the deputy mayor and it's fair to say the engagements have been very varied.

"Both myself and Laura are looking forward to the next year and the opportunity to represent Walsall in our roles as mayor and mayoress."

His chosen charities are Heart Care, MS Society (Black Country branch), Macmillan Cancer Support (Walsall Group) and Bloxwich Community Partnership. The 63-year-old has been a Walsall councillor for a total of 18 years and currently represents the Blakenall ward.

He was first elected to the council in 1983, representing Palfrey, and has also served on various committees including education, housing and social services.

The deputy mayor is Councillor Angela Underhill. Her husband John will be deputy mayor's consort.

MP voices concern at hospital cry for help

AN MP is 'urgently' trying to find out more about what action will be taken at Stafford Hospital after bosses asked the Care Quality Commission for help.

They say the move is due to the 'fragility' of the trust that runs the hospital and problems with staff recruitment and retention.

The hospital is facing a shortage of 85 full-time equivalent nurses and midwives.

It is hoped the CQC will visit the hospital, give assistance and carry out a full inspection to help ease the current pressures.

But Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy said this must not affect the long-term plans for the hospital, which is being taken over by the University Hospital of North Staffordshire in November.

Mr Lefroy said he was 'concerned' by the announcement but said 'patient safety must always be paramount'.

He added: "I am urgently seeking further information about the role that the CQC will be undertaking.

Compromised

"The one key point that I have been making consistently and will make again to the CQC and the TSA is that the TSA's final report, signed off by Monitor and the Secretary of State, clearly states which services are to be provided at Stafford.

"These must not be compromised in the long term and everything must be done to ensure all those services are delivered safely."

The University Hospital of North Staffordshire in Stoke is taking over the running of services at Stafford Hospital and The Royal Wolverhampton Trust taking over Cannock Hospital.

The Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust will be dissolved. Around £220 million is being spent on the restructure.

Restaurant site for sale at £25,000

A FORMER Indian restaurant at a Cannock complex has been put up for sale and is already attracting interest.

Property advisers Christie & Co is marketing the building at Orbital Plaza , Bridgtown, as a restaurant and bar.

It has a price tag of £25,000 and bosses say it would be an ideal location for a chain or independent firm.

Spokesman Peter Fermoy said: "We expect significant interest. We have had quite a few people who are keen to look at the details. We expect to see some viewings very soon."

The unit used to be occupied by Taaj Indian Fine Dining, which has now closed. It can accommodate 90 diners and includes an entrance lobby with lounge area, waitress station and toilets. Paul Reilly, from Christie & Co's Birmingham office, who is handling the sale, said: "This is a great opportunity for either a branded operator or an experienced restaurant/bar operator."

The Orbital Plaza complex was put up for sale in February last year and was snapped up by Nine Hospitality in November.

Festival is music for charity

Adam Paget, Andrew Wood and Mark Hillier, of Marquis Drive, celebrate the success

ORGANISERS of a music festival in Hednesford helped to raise £1,370 for the Teenage Cancer Trust after hundreds of people descended on the event.

Father-of-two Adam Paget teamed up with the owner of Woody's Music Bar, Andrew Wood, to host the event at the Market Street venue last month.

They were inspired to raise the funds after seeing the efforts of Stephen Sutton.

Eight bands played at the even, including Cannock-based headline act Marquis Drive. Mr Paget, aged 44, of Cardigan Place, Hednesford, said: "Over the day we had between 300 and 400 people. It was full for the headlining band. It was free to get in but we had donation buckets. It was all good fun.

"There was a brilliant atmosphere. I would like to thank Eddie Thomas who was the sound engineer on the day and Kevin Lowe who was the DJ and compere."

He added: "I think it's amazing we managed to raised £1,370. It's fantastic."

Car taken in series of raids in village

THIEVES made off with a car during a spate of raids on properties in Penkridge.

The matt dark blue/grey Ford S Max registration DU62 KNJ, was taken overnight on June 12 and 13 from Francis Green Lane.

A Samsung S3 mobile phone, a black Acer laptop, a gold wireless Xbox controller and a black wireless Xbox controller were also stolen, while in a second raid in the same street, thieves made off a black Samsung Galaxy Ace mobile phone and an iPad.

During the same night a black leather coat and a pair of black gloves with yellow writing on were stolen from inside an insecure car parked, also in Francis Green Lane. Thieves also targeted a garage in Chestnut Grove and after forcing entry stole a sat nav and an iPod from within a car.

A police spokesman said "We believe all the incidents are linked and we're appealing for anyone with information about the crimes, or the whereabouts of the stolen property, to come forward."

Contact DC Ed Rowe on 101, quoting incident number 101 of June 13, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Officers get use of bikes

POLICE can tackle anti-social behaviour on Cannock Chase by using four bicycles donated by firefighters.

It means officers can patrol the beauty spot much quicker than on foot. They hope to crack down on grass fires and vandlism. Search and rescue teams will also use the bikes.

Partnership Manager for the Cannock Local Policing Team Duncan Rollo added: "We are very grateful to the fire and rescue service."

Cannock Station Manager Neil Pedersen said: "The bikes will assist the police in patrolling the vast areas of rural parkland."

Group ramble

CHASE & District Group Ramblers visit Shropshire for an eight-mile walk at Chirbury, Shropshire, including Corndon Hill, on Sunday (June 29). Departure time is 9am from Hednesford railway station car park, Anglesey Street.

Coulson 'proves need' for regulation

A HERO of the London bombings of July 7 2005 said the conviction of Andy Coulson proved the need for tighter Press regulation.

Paul Dadge, who was famously pictured helping a woman at the scene of the terrorist attacks, has been a vocal campaigner for the pressure group Hacked Off after being contacted by police investigating the phone hacking scandal.

The former firefighter from Cannock said the conviction showed why the Press could no longer regulate itself. "It wasn't just one rogue reporter," he said.

"It was always a lot bigger than the papers a few years ago were claiming."

He added: "Multiple papers were saying there's only one person found guilty so do we need Leveson? I say most definitely.

"We're not just talking about phone hacking, we're talking about privacy,.

"Politicians are trying to keep the papers on side and the public on side and in polls the public are showing massive support for Leveson."

He received undisclosed damages from News Group Newspapers, a subsidiary of News International, which owned the News of the World.

Football club needs funds

A NINE-YEAR-OLD football team from Cheslyn Hay is in desperate need to raise money for new kit, footballs, league fees, pitch fees, referees and other equipment.

Carol Featherstone, the fundraiser for The Colliers Arms team, is appealing for local business to donate vouchers for their business so she can organise an auction to raise money.

It will take place at the Colliers Arms pub if the appeal is sucessful.

Any one willing to donate to the appeal should contact Carol Featherstone on 07792587105

Sticker swaps

WORLD Cup sticker collectors will be able to make swaps at a supermarket. Sainsbury's in Cannock will hold a swap shop ahead of the final on July 13. They will be held in the store's cafe from 3.30-6pm Monday to Friday and from 2.30 to 6.30pm on Saturdays.

Students dig deep for cricket club task

Students get to work on the sports club project

GARDENING students went to the aid of a sports club which was badly in need of a little horticultural help.

A group from South Staffordshire College worked at Cannock Hockey and Cricket Club for six weeks, removing dead and diseased trees from around the perimeter of the grounds and preparing a small area for seating.

College staff said the level two students, based at the Rodbaston campus near Penkridge, used the experience to learn more about bi-diversity and plant management and maintenance strategies. The gang of 11 have already carried out substantial work and now plan to rejuvenate the rockery at the main entrance and improve the boundary around the grounds.

Great

The club, based at Chase Park, Hatherton, famously gave former England batsman Kevin Pietersen a start in English cricket.

Students Paula Bacon-Wilkes, Iain Cameron, Lewis Crowe, Joshua Gilbert, Sean Kennedy, Nicholas Murdoch, Luke Parton, George Raworth, Aiden Richardson, Jack Ridgard and James Sedgwick enjoyed the hands-on experience.

Horticulture lecturer Ashley Brown said: "This is a great opportunity for students to gain some practical off-site experience, allowing them to engage with general public and utilise the knowledge they have gained."

Rodbaston Campus specialises in courses for land-based activities such as horticulture, agriculture, animal care and equestrian pursuits.

Fears for jobs as parcel firm looks set to move

JOBS could be at risk at a parcel delivery depot in Cannock which is set to close under plans revealed by a leading logistics firm.

TNT Express, which has a base at Wimblebury Road, Littleworth, is to centralise operations to its main hub at Kingsbury, Warwickshire.

Around 100 workers are based Littleworth but the firm hopes that the majority will be kept on or found new roles with consultation with staff being launched.

The company said its Kingsbury base was purpose-made and the move would not affect customers' deliveries in Staffordshire.

A spokesperson said: "Such a move would bring significant benefits to thousands of local businesses served by TNT Express across the region, while also providing greater capacity for serving even more businesses into the future.

"The company is optimistic that the majority of staff currently employed at Cannock depot may be retained in similar roles at Kingsbury, with redeployment opportunities also available. Proposals are subject to ongoing and consultation with the trade union.

"Subject to ongoing consultation relocation would be expected to take place in September 2014."

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said it was 'disappointing' given the number of businesses looking to move into the Staffordshire area.

"We have been doing quite well attracting a lot of new businesses into the area so this is disappointing. It is a reverse of the trend," he said.

"It is a long way for them to travel, whether they will be able to it I don't know. I am concerned about their jobs."

Road opens but drivers face delays

A ROAD closed during work on a £3 million bridge as part of the electrification of a railway line has finally re-opened after eight months.

But drivers in Broad Lane, Bloxwich, are still facing delays as temporary traffic lights have been set up.

And Network Rail says it does not yet know when work will finish completely.

Bosses had hoped to reopen the road last Friday but it was delayed again.

The re-opening had already been put off for another week due to complications with utility workings and wet weather.

The route finally opened on Monday but the carriageway has been reduced to one lane with temporary traffic lights while barriers are fitted around the bridge.

Essington Parish Council chairman David Clifft said: "It is still causing queues and traffic could build up even more once people become aware that it is open."

Network Rail spokesman Ben Herbert said: "The traffic lights will be there for a while"

Musical celebration as teacher retires

MUSIC students past and present will gather to say farewell to a much-loved teacher next month.

The Night at the Proms-style musical celebration is being held at Cardinal Griffin School in aid of retiring music teacher Yvonne Griffin.

Resident Irish band Clanna Gael will join the school's own jazz and swing band for the gathering on Saturday, July 19.

It takes place in the sports hall at the school, off Stafford Road, Cannock, with food and a disco included. Tickets are £15 for adults, £45 for a family of four of free for under-5s.

Mrs Griffin, who joined the school after initially only covering for maternity leave 26 years ago, said she said was looking forward to reminiscing with past and present band members.

"They have been a great advert for the school," she said. "There has been nothing so rewarding than nurturing them in their music over the years."

Clanna Gael was formed in 1990 and has 25 members playing guitars, violins, bhodran, accordion, recorder and double bass.

They have performed both at home and abroad including at St Patrick's celebrations in Birmingham and in Ireland.

Former pupil Alex Jobson said she had fond memories of the school bands and spent most of her time as a pupil in the music department. She said: "We wanted to celebrate all the music that the school has produced."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

WE watched the sun go down over Beer beach in Devon as we have done from time to time since 1972. Why do folk go back to the same familiar places, year after year? In one of her short stories Margaret Atwood says it is "to steady myself against the current of time that is flowing past and over me, faster and faster." Anyone over 50 knows exactly what she means.

❑❑❑❑❑❑

YOU can't help noticing how many of the second-hand volumes in the Beer church book stall are do-it-yourself manuals. The connection, presumably, is that the name of Our Saviour is uttered more often in DIY than in just about any other human endeavour, and certainly with feeling. There is probably more religious language in 20 minutes of plumbing than in a whole Sunday in church.

❑❑❑❑❑❑

IF you need proof that the Devonian lifestyle is good for you, look no further than the routine death announcements outside a local funeral director's. This week's dear departed were 93, 97 and 101.

❑❑❑❑❑❑

HOW international politics works. Memorandum from the Grand Ayatollah to all citizens of Iran: With effect from 0900 on Monday the stinking, whore-bred spawn of the Great Satan will be known as "our dear friends the American people".

❑❑❑❑❑❑

DEAR Tony, of course it's not your fault. There is no connection between your invasion of Iraq in 2003 and the chaos that has followed. Nor is there any connection between the UK debt crisis and all those billions of pounds you and Gordon borrowed. And there is definitely no connection between the rise of Ukip and your policy of open-door immigration. It's all just pure coincidence. Yours sincerely, Alastair Campbell.

❑❑❑❑❑❑

THE public-health advice from the Food Standards Agency is not to wash chickens before you cook them. Damn right. They peck your soap to pieces and get feathers all over the shower.

❑❑❑❑❑❑

IN HIS new book My Scotland, Our Britain, Gordon Brown declares his great pride in being MP for Kirkaldy and Cowdenbeath, "to speak on behalf of the community that made me and raised me." So how many times have you spoken in Parliament since losing the 2010 General Election, Mr Brown? He may like to kid us he's Mr Proud but the former Labour leader and PM has been doing very good impressions of Mr Grumpy and Mr Silent.

❑❑❑❑❑❑

GENERATION Right was the title of a Radio 4 programme looking at the alleged right-wing views of Britain's under-30s. One manifestation of this was young people objecting to NHS resources being spent on binge drinkers, chain smokers and grossly obese people who are perceived as being responsible for their conditions. What on earth is right-wing about wanting to use the NHS effectively? I bet the great Labour reformers who created the NHS 60-odd years ago would have had precisely the same views.

❑❑❑❑❑❑

THE bank rate may be raised by October. About time, too. One rarely mentioned fact about Britain's financial crisis is that the black hole was plugged by taking billions of pounds from innocent old people. Pensioners who had been getting £5,000 a year on their investments were suddenly told that their income was being cut to £700. If any other section of the public had been treated like this, there would have been blood in the streets. Having robbed the old 'uns for the past seven years, the banks are preparing to give them a little bit more. Sweet.

There will be performances of mining poetry, prose and theatre, plus music from the Rugeley Power Station Band.

There will also be the chance to enjoy the new, interactive Mining Memories exhibition, which is the result of a £150,000 transformation, including a £97,600 grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund. Stuart Murray, chief executive of WLCT which manages the museum on behalf of Cannock Chase Council, said: "We are incredibly proud of the work that has been done to create this impressive exhibition, which pays homage to the Cannock Chase's mining heritage and provides a great educational resource for those wanting to learn more about the history of their local area." Councillor Christine Mitchell, the council's culture and sport portfolio leader, said: "The Mining Memories exhibition is a wonderful resource for the district and shines a light on an important part of our heritage."

Mining Memories provides a permanent gallery allowing people to experience a 'day in the life' of a miner.

Fairy walk in forest to remember Laura

by Craig Hughes

THERE was a sea of pink and fairy wings as family and friends gathered for a charity walk in memory of a Staffordshire woman.

Up to 200 people joined forces to remember Laura Jane Thomas who was killed in Shropshire last year by a lorry being driven by a trucker while he was was looking at pornography .

The 5km stroll took place through Birches Valley in Cannock Chase on Sunday and people were able to tie messages to a tree at fairy corner memory of the popular 20 year-old.

The aim was to raise money for Midlands Air Ambulance, Marshlands Special School, Stafford, where Laura, of Great Haywood, near Stafford, was a teaching assistant, and Riding for the Disabled in Ingestre, where she volunteered.

Her mother Lisa, aged 45, said Laura had loved Tinkerbell and Disney, having gone to a fancy dress party as Tinkerbell and that was where the fairies came about.

Contribute

She said they were delighted with how many people turned out.

"It is lovely, it means a lot, so many people knew Laura," Mrs Thomas said.

"Because it is such a small village, everyone knew her and wanted to contribute.

"She had lived there from a baby and the whole village wanted to actively do something."

The community feel saw the Lichfield branch of Tesco donate 120 bottles of water to help those taking part.

Those on the walk included Laura's auntie Sarah Noble and seven year-old cousin Molly, from Burntwood.

Sales and marketing worker Sarah, 36, said: "It is lovely to see everybody.

"We are trying to keep Laura's sparkle alive.

"It is good for the family to see all the support."

Laura's grandmother Kim Noble, 56, a call centre director from Alrewas, said: "It is great to have so many people still supporting the family and raise funds for three things close to Laura's heart."

Friends Suzi Pugh and Sophie Kirkwood also took part in the fairy themed event.

Suzi, 20, from Cannock, was one four people to take part in a skydive including Laura's auntie Sarah and Gemma Hall and Karen Bannister ,which was raised more than £3,500.

She said: "It is really good how many people have turned out." Sophie, also 20 and from Rugeley, added: "She always wanted to help people, this is something she would have been proud of."

Struck

Laura died in July last year when her car broke down on the A5 between Telford and Shrewsbury and was struck by a lorry on the A5 between Telford and Shrewsbury driven by Ian Glover, 44, of Birmingham. He had been looking at pictures of women on an explicit dating site.

She was standing behind a safety barrier on the A5 with her fiancé Lewis Anthony Pagett, 19, of Rugeley when they were struck by their broken down car after it was hit by Glover's lorry.

Mr Pagett was also seriously injured.

Glover was jailed for five years.

Tolkien trail to be launched in county

GUIDED walks following the trail of author JRR Tolkien are being launched in Staffordshire.

The author of The Hobbit and The Lord of the Rings spent a short part of his early life living in the county.

During the First World War, he was posted to the Army training camps on Cannock Chase, first at Rugeley then at Brocton.

Now the first of three linked walks across the Staffordshire countryside and celebrating the county's connection Tolkiens will be launched. They will span 30 miles.

The Great War years are believed to have played an important part in the development of his work on the mythology, languages, history and landscape of what would become Middle Earth – the fictional universe in which his stories are based.

References relate to landmarks such as the Essex Bridge at Shugborough, which is The Grey Bridge of Tavrobel, and Shugborough Hall as The House of a Hundred Chimneys.

The first leg will be launched on July 3 with a 12-mile walk from Penkridge Library to Cannock Chase, via Gypsy Green where Tolkien lived briefly.

Training for work scheme

PROPOSALS to give young adults a training allowance instead of unemployment benefits have been backed by business leaders in Staffordshire.

The scheme is being mooted by Labour leader Ed Miliband and is aimed at bridging the gap between businesses and young people.

Chris Plant, director of Chase Chamber of Commerce, said: "Giving 18 to 21 year-olds training allowances rather than unemployment benefits will be an attractive idea to many in the business community."

Summer fun

A RUGELEY church summer fete takes place next month. The fun takes place at St Augustine's in Station Road, from 2-4pm on Sunday, July 13. Attractions include a free magic show, stalls and refreshments, face painting, games and a grand draw.

Shopping centre has life-saving machine

WORKERS at Cannock Shopping Centre have been trained to use a new defibrillator in case shoppers fall ill there.

Three members of staff have been trained in the use of defibrillators and first aid to ensure that if any shoppers become seriously ill, they are given the best possible chance of survival.

A defibrillator is a device that can be used to restart the heart of anyone who suffers a cardiac arrest. The machines are easy to use and provide emergency care until an ambulance arrives.

West Midlands Ambulance Service has provided free training and has loaned a defibrillator to the centre while it works with Cannock Rotary Club in applying for a permanent one.

Centre manager Natal Chapman said: "It could mean the difference between life and death."

She added: "We recommend the HeartStart life-saving course to everybody as it is a really valuable scheme and gives people the knowledge and confidence to deal with emergency situations."

Cannock has two public access defibrillators at St. Luke's Church. It is anticipated ones will be installed in the bus station and Asda.

Fraud charge woman bailed

A FORMER school and college finance boss has appeared in Cannock Magistrates' Court accused of defrauding her employers out of more than £26,000.

Tracy Taylor, aged 41, of Lebanon Grove, Burntwood, was accused on Monday of writing cheques to cash, using staff purchase cards and a fuel card for her personal use. She faces seven counts of defrauding Stafford Sports College, Chetwynd Centre and Sir Graham Balfour High.

She was released on bail to appear at Stafford Crown Court on September 22.

Coffee morning

THE next coffee morning at St John's Church, Slitting Mill, takes place on July 2. They are held on the first Wednesday of each month from 10.30am. Admission is £2 to include a drink and cake or biscuit. A raffle and bric-a-brac sale will also be held.

Restaurant launches dish with extra bite

Abdul Jabbar and owner Tony Uddin

DINERS in Cannock are being challenged to wrestle the world's hottest curry made with crocodile meat.

The Crocodile Inferno, served at the Dilshad Indian restaurant, in Cannock Road, Chadsmoor, is rated twice as hot as police pepper spray. The dish is so hot that chefs have to wear gas masks while they prepare it due to the overpowering chilli fumes.

Customers will be asked to sign a special disclaimer to try the curry, which uses crocodile meat and the two hottest chillies in the world. Dilshad owner Tony Uddin says the curry is twice as hot as police tear gas and is rated at around six million on the scoville scale for heat.

It contains a blend of some of the world's hottest chillies including the Ghost chilli pepper, The Trinidad scorpion Butch T. chilli pepper and the notorious Carolina Reaper, the world's hottest.

Mr Uddin said: "We already serve the UK's hottest curry but we wanted to take it to the next level and serve the new dish with a twist.

"I believe this could be the hottest curry in the world. We thought crocodile meat would epitomise the ultimate challenge. The chefs have to wear gas masks when cooking it due to the fumes which are so powerful.

"The crocodile will literally be biting back as you eat it. It will be a torrid experience. You will literally feel like you have wrestled a crocodile by the end of it.

"This is twice as hot as the Dilshad Inferno which was the hottest in the UK. But the Crocodile Inferno is a totally different animal. I am not sure anyone can finish it."

If anyone does manage to complete it they will win a special T-Shirt to mark the feat. To take on the challenge, call 01543 570264.

Battle to repair county's potholes gets £2m boost

A FLEET of new machines have been drafted into Staffordshire as part of £2.1 million being pumped into repairs on the county's roads.

Crews for Staffordshire County Council already tackle more than 400 potholes every week and the four Roadmasters – known as 'zapping machines' – are now helping to fix additional potholes and resurface 'hotspots' on stretches of road in one go.

It comes as Staffordshire has been awarded more than £4.5 million to fix 86,000 potholes in the county as part of a funding boost for authorities nationwide.

As part of a £2.1 million extra investment, which needs to be spent by the summer, Staffordshire County Council has prioritised the work with the machines to get the maximum benefit for the county.

The machines, being rented by the council, will be based in Gailey, Cannock, Stone and the Staffordshire Moorlands.

Seal

They carry a range of equipment, meaning roads can be dug out and resurfaced in one process, rather than separate teams having to work over a longer period.

The machines can also seal the new surface so vehicles can drive over it straight away, reducing the need for road closures.

Transport chief Councillor Mark Deaville said said: "We know an effective and well maintained road network in Staffordshire is important to both residents and to bringing jobs and prosperity to the county.

"This extra investment is of course welcome and is currently helping us draft in more machines to roll out further improvements to our roads."

Police will be talking on dangers

POLICE will be out and about talking to youngsters and their parents about potential dangers they face.

For the next few weekends officers will be talking to youngsters aged 13 to 18 years the Landywood Railway station, near Rugeley, Landywood skate park and Quinton Court shopping centre in Cheslyn Hay.

Inspector Geoff Knight, commander of South Staffordshire local policing team, said: "We are keen to make parents and young people aware of what dangers there could be, including child exploitation.

"Being aware of how some people contact young people for exploitation is important to know and understand so they can keep themselves safe.

"We are also aware that children will be out a lot more during the main school holidays. Keeping them and our communities safe is a priority.

"We hope parents and young people will feel comfortable to approach our officers and discuss any issues they have with them."

School topic plain sailing for pupils

At the wheel is Megan Mason with teacher Phil Bailey and pupils at Glenthorne Primary School

PUPILS were all at sea when they dressed as sailors for an enrichment day.

Deputy head Leanne Bridgwood organised the event ahead at Glenthorne Primary in Cheslyn Hay.

Children from the Glenthorne Drive school, which has 198 pupils on roll, paraded around the playground before headteacher Simon Barker cut a white ribbon to open proceedings.

The children then walked the plank on the' 'HMS Glenthorne' while other fun activities included battleships, plotting co-ordinates and tug-of-war.

Early Years children made boats out of lego, junk model boats and a messages in bottles before snacking on fish finger sandwiches.

A school spokesman said: "All the Children had a lovely day and made flags to end the day on a lovely note by marching out of school at home time to meet their parents."

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

WHILE sitting in a park recently, I was informed that according to an old wives' tale it is good luck if a pigeon makes a mess on your shoe. Having had a couple of weeks to reflect on this, I have come to the conclusion that this is a myth.

It is bad luck if a pigeon messes on your shoe. But good luck indeed if said pigeon misses and lays a bit fat splat on the traffic warden standing next to you.

OBSERVING that Wayne Rooney's wife was pictured at the airport in Brazil with no fewer than 15 suitcases, somebody remarked on Facebook that 'Coleen Rooney's luggage sums up all that is wrong with English soccer!' On balance, I feel inclined to agree. Except that it wasn't her spare clothes I had in mind.

AND why does every football match now have to be preceded by half an hour's worth of sentimental gush about the players' personal lives?

Gushing tales about how 'grandad was always therefore them' and tearful tales about how they want their children to be proud of them. Could you have imagined Nobby Stiles or Geoff Hurst turning blathering on like that before a must-win game? Of course not. It's supposed to be a sport, not the Oprah Winfrey show.

INTERESTING to see that the British and US governments appear to be adopting a policy of 'whoever is my enemy's enemy is my friend' by joining forces with Iran in the fight against the Isis militias in Iraq.

It is of course a policy which has been tried before. Not so long ago, it was Iran's fundamentalist leader Ruholla Khomeini who was public enemy number one, agitating trouble wherever he went, taking his country back to the Middle Ages, calling us 'Little Satan' and ordering his followers to murder a British author, nice friendly stuff like that.

To counter the growing menace that Khomeini was presenting to world peace, the West decided to support his biggest enemy, and provided him with weapons to attack Iran. There were concerns that this man too might have one or two murderous habits, but he seemed a bit more civilised, and he always dressed nicely, whereas Khomeini dressed up like a villain out of one of the Harry Potter films.

His name, of course was Saddam Hussein. And when Khomeini died in 1990, he was no longer our friend.

Maybe it's just down to being a simple 'mon' from the Black Country. But British foreign policy seems a confusing business sometimes.

The wrongly convicted George Edalji

Justice miscarriage that still fascinates

Gruesome animal slayings and a miscarriage of justice – a plot to rival fiction, as ROB GOLLEDGE reports

IT'S a tale that fascinates to this day – and led to the intervention of Sherlock Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Vicar's son George Edalji was wrongly convicted of a brutal pony mutilation and it fell to Conan Doyle to play real-life detective and clear the young solicitor's name.

Now the Wyrley Outrages – which unfolded at the turn of the 20th century – are to be made into a three-part ITV drama starring Martin Clunes as Conan Doyle.

The ITV series will be be adapted from the novel 2005 Arthur & George by Julian Barnes, which was shortlisted for the Man Booker Prize. It will go into production this autumn and will be filmed in Greater London and Staffordshire – but exact locations are yet to be released.

The mysterious case started with a collection of anonymous poison pen letters in the name of the 'Wyrley Gang' which plagued the area during the late 1880 and 1890s – some which named George. Then followed the mutilations which shocked the community. Gruesome picture postcards from the time showed some of the mutilated creatures either lying in a field or at the local slaughterhouse.

On August 18, 1903, a pony was found mutilated at the Great Wyrley Colliery Company. Police investigations led officers to the vicarage and to George, whose father Shapurji was the vicar at St Mark's church for 42 years. He was born a Parsi in Bombay and married to Charlotte, from Ketley, Shropshire.

George was arrested on suspicion of the pit pony killing – the eighth such slashing – but it was inferred he was also responsible for the maiming and ripping of at least five horses, three cows, and a sheep.

The Rev Shapurji Edalji, wife Charlotte and Horace, Maud and George

He was tried at Stafford Quarter Sessions in what today is the Shire Hall Gallery. Despite dubious circumstantial evidence such as razor blades found in the vicarage and spots of blood on his coat, he was convicted and sentenced to seven-years of penal servitude with hard labour. The fact that the outrages continued after Edalji's imprisonment was disregarded.

There was huge public outrage over the case – not only at the shocking killings – but also at George's treatment.

Archives from the Express & Star reveal the extent of the chaos at Cannock Magistrates' Court for one of the initial hearings.

"When the door was opened at 10 o'clock there was a rush that resembled nothing so much as a struggle for seats on a first night at a popular theatre," our reporter said.

"Men were cursing, women were shrieking and pushing, making it a veritable pandemonium. The police, as a result, lost their heads and tempers". Our representative, finding it impossible to get in by the public entrance, decided to try the magistrates' door, but was informed that such a thing was unheard of.

"How dare he use the magistrates' entrance?" the report continued. The Pressman attempted to expostulate, but the clerk banged the door in his face, highly indignant at the insult to the 'magisterial dignity'.

Detailed coverage of the trial continued, and various suggestions that Mr Edalji's 'gang' remained uncaught, and had threatened to kill women and girls, combined with an event near Kidderminster to create panic throughout the Black Country.

'Murder of a Walsall woman. Horrible mutilation of the body. Too gross for description' screamed an Express & Star headline after the corpse of a woman was found in hop fields on the Kidderminster border.

'In some quarters the crime is supposed to have some connection with the Great Wyrley Outrage', it added.

A petition was signed by 10,000 people and another from 300 lawyers was sent to the Home Office because with the lack of evidence; they all believed there had been a great miscarriage of justice.

Because of the widespread publicity, public pressure to the Home Office appeared to pay off. In October 1906, George was released, although only because the sentence was considered too harsh and his name was not cleared.

He went on to write a series of articles for The Umpire newspaper telling his side of the story. The articles caught the eye of Conan Doyle, who travelled to Staffordshire and, just like his sleuth creation Sherlock, began to unravel the case. Conan Doyle argued George, who was near sighted, could in no way have committed the crime and, eventually the guilty verdict was found to be unsafe. Home Secretary Herbert Gladstone concluded George should be granted a free pardon but refused any compensation.

POLITICS

WITH DANIEL WAINWRIGHT

REDUCED to little more than a third of the membership of Walsall Council, one might very well question the audacity of Tory leader Mike Bird in bidding to retain control.

All the numbers were against him. Labour had won a couple more seats in last month's local elections and now held half.

The death of opposition leader Tim Oliver left Labour one more down. But in order for Labour to be defeated it would require every other party and the independents to team up against it. Somehow that is exactly what happened.

Mike Bird managed something that many Tories can only dream of, he got UKIP to support him staying in control. He is adamant that nothing was offered and that no deals were done, which raises a problem for Nigel Farage's Eurosceptics. Can they really claim to be as anti the Tories as they are Labour?

The Lib Dems, of course, have made their bed with the Tories over the past two years and must now lie in it for better or worse.

But Walsall's blue-gold-purple alliance is not in a stable position politically. There will be a by-election in Birchills Leamore to find a successor for Tim Oliver and I wouldn't bet against Labour keeping the seat.

Councillor Bird is going to have to come up with a year of political miracles. He has to keep not only his own party on side but the Lib Dems, UKIP and two independents, as well as trying to win over the mayor, Democratic Labour's Pete Smith (not to be confused with Labour Classic, New or One Nation).

Some councillors are new and untested. They all have to be there for every single vote to avoid defeat. And Councillor Bird has no authority over the ones who are not in his party. He has to get a budget passed. But then Labour has form for sitting on its hands in Walsall, despite first protesting and posing for pictures with campaigners, amid concerns that had they voted the budget down they would have paralysed the council.

He will have to keep a constant watch for a motion of no confidence.

West Bromwich MP Tom Watson has put Mr Miliband's spin doctors on warning that they need to cut out the schoolboy errors. These included the decision to pose with a copy of The Sun and the now infamous pictures of Mr Miliband struggling with a bacon sandwich.

I'd add to that the decision to bring the leader to Walsall three days before polling day and invite party supporters to a speech they would already completely agree with. While the faithful were gathered and hanging on Ed's every word, they were not out knocking doors and winning hearts and minds.

Carla's 'wedding' wish for her terminally ill son

ON Friday she will be walking down the aisle for what would normally be the happiest day of her life.

But 19-year-old Carla Marshall will have mixed emotions when she arrives at St Michael and All Angels Church in Penkridge.

For in her arms will be her two-year-old son D'shawn, who has been given less than six months to live.

In a poignant move, the youngster will be 'giving away' his mother in a mock-up wedding because he will not be around when she one day she ties the knot for real.

She said: "I just wanted images of him at my wedding, even though it's fake."

The ceremony, which will be performed by the vicar, the Rev Greg Yerbury, is part of a modest bucket list that former student Carla, from Wolverhampton, has drawn up for her son.

Most involve visits to children's theme parks and tourist centres, such as ThomasLand at Drayton Manor Park, the Sea Life Centre and the Severn Valley Railway.

Cannock-based disability support charity Dads is helping to turn the wishes into reality, including fixing up the church, a reception venue at the Top of the World banqueting suite, Stafford, wedding outfits and a car, with Carla turning down limousines and a Ferrari for the chance to arrive at the church in a campervan.

But everything rests on D'shawn, who suffers from a number of medical conditions, being well on the day.

The youngster has spent only five days at the family home in Chesterton Road, Wednesfield since having a seizure in April, on the day after his second birthday. Carla said: "It was that that sparked me into action. I've known almost from day one that he wasn't going to live long."

Carla Marshall with her terminally ill son D'Shawn Marshall, aged two D'shawn suffers from epilepsy, brain damage, microcephaly, delayed development and partial sight. It means he cannot walk, talk, hold his head up or even grasp toys, and has to be tube fed.

Carla will be 'marrying' her best friend-turned-boyfriend, 22-year-old Kyle Matthews.

"It's all a bit weird," she said. " I'm not ready to get married for real yet. But of all the things on the bucket list, this is the one that means the most."

Promise over NHS is broken

THE Tories' promise that the NHS would be safe in their hands, has proven to be a broken one. People are seeing cuts, closures and downgrades in order to pave the way for privatisation.

Clinical Commissioning Groups are not what people want. They are made up of private general practitioners who are allowing private companies to bid for contracts in the NHS, and cuts to the service are causing low morale, fewer nurses and an increase in contracted out workers.

After the downgrade of Stafford Hospital we thought Cannock Hospital was safe. Now appears the future of the Minor Injuries Unit is unstable and at risk.

Proper funding and the scrapping of any form of privatisation is needed, but the Tories seem hell bent on suckering up to the needs of the rich instead of securing patient care – free for all at the point of delivery.

Call for common sense over parking

FURTHER to my recent letter regarding a parking fine that was issued to one of my wife's carers.

Despite having sent an appeal explaining who and what the vehicle owner was and what I considered to be fair and reasonable mitigating circumstances, the appeal was turned down.

Given that these carers are thoughtful dedicated people, who provide essential services to help sick and vulnerable people, is it right that they should be treated in such a shabby 'jobsworth' way when a little common sense could have avoided it? No one came to see if the circumstances I had outlined in my appeal had any merit and it was treated with 'bureaucratic disregard' by faceless people in grey suits who hide behind closed doors.

The decision to issue the fine was within the law. However but was I do not believe these laws were ever intended to be used against people who provide such essential services.

Meanwhile, the statement issued by the Staffs Traffic Unit was that they were not prepared to allow any leeway based upon my wife's very serious condition. We, the residents, had requested their assistance in keeping our driveways clear as we live by a school – that is what they are doing!

While this request was made 12 months ago the only person given a ticket during that periodis this carer. Meanwhile, repeated offenders are overlooked on a daily basis and school run times avoided. Surely, common sense and understanding should prevail in such situations?

Libraries play vital role within societies

THE county council continues to plumb new depths. A year after the elections they are dismantling as many services as they can get away with. Now they are centring on the libraries. They want us to volunteer to run the libraries that we already pay for through our council tax – or we may well lose them. Where will these volunteers come from?

There are only a limited number of people willing and able to volunteer. Librarians are professional, qualified people and volunteers cannot be expected to provide a service that will be the same as a qualified member of staff. Nor can they be expected to put up with the many demands that our library staff have to deal with.

Libraries play a vital part in our society. It is not just books. They are meeting places.. People use libraries to access the internet and get help from staff.

The Tories can out as much spin on it as they like but a cut is a cut and they are cutting our libraries.

Animal welfare funds

LOCAL volunteers took to the streets of Rugeley on May 17 to raise money for Compassion in World Farming, Britain's leading farm animal welfare organisation.

The £107.96 raised will enable Compassion in World Farming to continue to campaign for increased standards of farm animal welfare.

Stephen's MBE is so deserving

HOW fantastic that Stephen Sutton has been granted an MBE. I could not be any happier that someone so deserving is being recognised.

I wrote to the Queen as I thought Stephen deserved recognition for all the hard work he did and for being such an inspiration to everyone around the country.

Even though I didn't know Stephen personally he touched my heart as he did with so many people. Not only that, hopefully he changed some people's negative attitude towards teenagers.

It is a shame that Stephen is no longer here to receive his MBE personally but I am sure when his family receive the award on his behalf, he will be looking down with his famous 'thumbs up'.

I am sure his family are really proud of him. The local people are also proud too, as Stephen's work is not finished yet – the fundraising goes on.

Backing given to fight for Ivy House

CONCERNING 'Save Ivy House', I give my backing to it wholeheartedly. I don't know the lady (Margaret) who is working so hard to keep this lovely building, but my sister and I both signed the petition to save it.

I have very happy memories of when I was there 60 years ago being treated for TB from which, thanks to the care I received, I made a full recovery and am now a very fit and healthy older person. I don't know Margaret's address or I would write to her personally to give her my support.

Holly trees leave the forest fighting for life

THE forest at Shoal Hill is being choked by the spread at an alarming speed of hundreds of holly trees and bushes that have now started to block or hinder some of the paths and nature trails.

Everywhere you look young saplings are shooting up, there are mature holly trees more than 30 feet high and the natural forest is fighting for its life.

If nothing is done then the forest I have known and loved for almost 70 years will disappear and future generations will never see its beauty.

Praise for hospital

I was in Stafford Hospital for a short stay in ward 1. The staff were pleasant and helpful, nothing was too much trouble. The doctors did all they could do to sort out my problem. I would recommend Stafford Hospital to anyone .

Don running shoes for cancer trust

Some of the participants that have already signed up to Race For Stephen around Chasewater Country Park

FUNDRAISERS can don their running shoes and Race For Stephen next month.Forward Action Burntwood has arranged the event in memory of Stephen Sutton.

It takes place around Chasewater Country Park on July 27 from 11am with proceeds being donated to the Teenage Cancer Trust. The group worked with Stephen to host a number of money-spinners, including a similar 5k route around the Chasewater last year.

Participation has already been bettered this year as more than 100 people have signed up. A spokesman for the organisation said: "We want as many people to take part as possible and registration forms are available from faburntwood@outlook.com"

The fee to register is £10 per person or £20 per family.

Sponsorship is being sought to help with the event. Anyone interested can email the same number.

Volunteers are also being sought to help out on the day and marshal the car park.

APC delivers jobs boost

COURIER firm APC Overnight has delivered an employment boost by announcing it will create 140 permanent jobs at its headquarters in Cannock over the next three months.

The roles will include warehouse staff and forklift truck drivers to work at the company's national sortation centre.

It comes just a year after APC Overnight moved into its new £15m national sorting centre and head office at Kingswood Lakeside Business Park.

That saw it double in size, recruiting another 200 employees. It now has 430 staff. The company is now investing in even more staff and new equipment ahead of another expected surge in workload this Christmas.

Growth

Head of human resources Emma Scott-Evans said the move to Cannock, from APC's previous base in Essington, had increased its capacity by 50 per cent but the firm now needed to invest in more staff and more equipment to handle further growth. She said: "At the moment the business is seeing month on month growth of 20 per cent. "

The Cannock centre is handling an average of 100,000 items every night, rising to 120,000 on Mondays. In the run-up to Christmas this is expected to rise to 150,000 a night.

Brett Kidson, human resources manager, said: "All of the positions we are currently recruiting for are permanent."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Troops will march into the annals of history

HUNDREDS of troops from the West Midlands and Staffordshire have been marching into the history books next week.

The 3rd Battalion the Mercian Regiment (3Mercian) – formerly The Staffords – will cease to exist on Saturday (June 28).

Soldiers have been parading through towns and cities in celebration of the recent completion of their second tour of duty in three years on the front line in Afghanistan.

by John Scott

The parades will include a ceremony to mark the Mercian Regiment being awarded the freedom of Cannock tomorrow (Friday).

Cannock Chase Council leader Councillor George Adamson said: "With the centenary of the start of the First World War almost upon us, it has never been more important to show our respect and gratitude to serving soldiers and veterans of our Armed Forces.

"I hope people will turn out in huge numbers. The Freedom honour and parade through the town is a wonderful opportunity for everyone in the district to show their support for serving soldiers and veterans, who will be marching side by side."

The gruelling nine month operation in trouble torn Helmand Province cost the life of Sergeant Major Ian Fisher who was killed by a suicide bomber.

The Brigade Advisory Team – the final element of the Battalion to leave Afghanistan – returned home two weeks ago. It included its Commanding Officer Lt Col Chris Davies.

The emotional homecoming parades will mark both the end of the Helmand tour and the closing of another chapter in the proud annals of a 309-year-old fighting unit's history.

They will finish with a ceremony at Lichfield Cathedral and a final walk to the nearby Kings Head pub where the militia that ultimately morphed into 3Mercian was first raised in 1705.

Model present for store boss Martin

OPTOMETRIST Martin Shaw has taken delivery of his very own bespoke Specsavers miniature dolls house to commemorate running the Cannock store for 25 years.

Dame Mary Perkins – co-founder of Specsavers – has arranged for all store directors who reach their 25th anniversary to receive the specially crafted miniature store as a thank you. Martin, who manges the Cannock Shopping Centre store, received his from Specsavers' senior purchasing manager Damian Roberts.

The gift is based on the standard 1:12 dolls house scale and features 30 working lights. It has reception, contact lens, dispensing, waiting and pre-test areas as well as a consulting room equipped with a test chart. The store even includes model staff, in Specsavers business wear.

Martin said: "We've seen a lot of changes in Cannock over the 25 years but we've worked hard to build a great team and always put our customers first. This approach seems to be a winning formula and we look forward."

Amber getting ready for life-changing operation

Jen Farley, Clare Pickman and Marie Tisdale with five-year-old Amber Porterfield

A SCHOOLGIRL who dreams of being able to walk has been accepted for a life-changing operation at a hospital abroad.

Five-year old Amber Porterfield has the condition spastic diplegic cerebral palsy and uses a walking frame and a wheelchair to get about.

Her family have so far raised £20,000 in just 15 weeks towards the appeal target of £60,000 to cover the costs of her undergoing surgery at a specialist centre in the United States, with the help of the school, friends, family and well-wishers. She and her family will travel to the Cerebral Palsy Centre at the St Louis Children's Hospital, in Missouri, in July next year.

Pleased

Amber's mother Susannah, aged 33, says: "The appeal is going really well. Saying 'thank you' to all the people who have helped so far doesn't seem enough.

"Most of the £20,000 has been raised by local people which is great.

"We're really pleased about securing a date at the hospital for next year."

Ansons Solicitors, where Amber's aunt works, has organised a 12-mile sponsored walk between its offices in Cannock and Lichfield on July 4.

If the selective dorsal rhizotomy operation treatment is successful it will help the Amber, a Pelsall Village School pupil to walk unaided. She currently has limited mobility in her lower limbs because the signals from her brain to the spine do not work.

Store helps to give foodbank a boost

A YEAR'S worth of fundraising and awareness support from Sainsbury's Cannock has made a huge difference to the staff at Cannock & District Foodbank.

Thanks to generous donations from customers, the store has raised £6,000 after the foodbank was chosen as its local charity partner.

Earlier this month, staff, including manager Paul Davis, met charity members at the store to celebrate the successful partnership. Over the past 12 monthsstaff at the store held several activities to raise funds and awareness of the charity's cause. These included a bazaar, an art sale and tombola.

The store also donated food from the customers as part of the partnership, a total of 2,500kg was a collected.

Despite the partnership coming to a close, it does not mean the charity will now be forgotten. Mr Davis said: "Our colleagues have really enjoyed working with Cannock & District Foodbank and it's certainly touched the hearts of many of them that before didn't necessary have a direct link to them.

"We know what an important part they play in the community and we hope the year-long partnership has helped remind our customers of the valuable service they provide in Cannock. Thanks to the partnership, we'll certainly now be looking into ways we can support them in the future".

The store will be announce its new Local Charity Partner next month.

Marie's halfway home in fundraising pledge

A WOMAN who pledged to support a different charity every week of the year is more than halfway through her challenge.

Marie Hayden, aged 35, made a New Year's resolution to help 52 charities in 52 weeks and has do far ticked off 29 challenges off her registered charities list.

The salon owner and mother-of-four has raised thousands of pounds for the likes of Help for Heroes, Macmillan, Rugeley Cats Society and food banks.

There are still 20 charities she wants to help out, including the Scouts, St Giles Hospice and Diabetes UK. Future events include a bungee jump, a ladies night and a sponsored walk.

Marie, who runs Florida Sun Tanning and Beauty, in North Street, Bridgtown, said: "I love to help people and I have always tried to help out where I can and encourage others to do the same.

Blankets

"In 2005 I shaved my hair off for Cancer Research UK and it all went from there because then I started fundraising as much as I could."

Marie has collected blankets for dogs homes and organised events including a ladies night at the Aquarius Ballroom in Hednesford and a 52-mile walk on September 26. Causes to benefit include Dads and Disability Support (DADS) and Staffordshire Search and Rescue.

A variety show on June 30 at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock will raise money to send the local girl guides group to India. She is staging a bungee jump day at Bridgtown Social Club, in Walsall Road, on July 20 and a ladies night at the Hen House in Hednesford on October 18. A sum of £398 was raised at a supermarket bag pack for Cannock Rangers Girl Guides. Other examples of her good work have included a collection of 99 Easter eggs donated by, friends, family and businesses. She has also sponsored friends and family to complete their own charity challenges as part of her fundraising drive.

Marie, who is also a girl guides volunteer, added: "I love to be busy and putting on events because they bring the community together and they raise cash for good causes."

"There is a lot of stress that comes along with organising them but it is definitely worth it."

To get involved with Marie's challenge visit her Facebook page 52 challenges in 52 weeks or call 07973 887647.

Group checks on custody

AN independent panel set up to scrutinise tStaffordshire Police has turned its spotlight on the wellbeing of people in custody.

The Ethics, Transparency and Audit Committee was launched by Staffordshire Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis in a bid to make the force the most transparent.

It has looked at Independent Custody Visitors reports from last year which include details about visits to detainees and any issues that needed addressing by custody staff. Initial findings said work was effective but there needed to be greater consistency in preparing reports and consideration should be given to increasing early-hour visits.

Excellence award payouts for doctors spark anger

THE Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust handed out 170 'clinical excellence awards' potentially worth millions of pounds to doctors while patients were dying due to poor care.

The winners received between £2,957 to £35,484 each.

The Francis Inquiry found hundreds of patients died in 'appalling' conditions at Stafford Hospital.

In 2010, £380 million of the awards were

by Adam Burling

handed out nationally to 20,140 consultants - with average award being £18,860. If Mid Staffs matched this, then the total bill for taxpayers over 2006 to 2010 would have been £3.2 million.

According to the NHS website, the awards are designed to: "Recognise and reward NHS consultants and academic GPs who perform 'over and above' the standard expected of their role. Awards are given for quality and excellence, acknowledging exceptional personal contributions." Jonathan Isaby, chief executive of the TaxPayers' Alliance, which uncovered the figures, said: "It's shocking that as patients were being subjected to inhumane treatment at the hands of some staff, the trust saw fit to dish out huge bonuses to doctors."

And Cure the NHS campaigner Julie Bailey, whose 86-year-old mother Bella die at the hands of neglect and abuse at the hospital, said on Twitter: "Surely Mid Staffs alone makes a mockery of Clinical Excellence Awards."

Mid Staffs NHS Trust declined to comment.

The awards recognise the achievement of site managers in creating new homes of outstanding quality. He joined nearly 450 winners selected from around 15,000 entrants from across the country. Peter Watton, regional director for NHBC, said: "The homes Jim has built in Cannock are without doubt among the best in the UK."

Winners have excelled in a comprehensive year-long judging process,. They are now shortlisted for regional titles which will be revealed in the autumn. Those winners will contest the national title in January.

Veteran banger racers in one-off celebration return

PAST stars of a legendary race track will be lining up to take part in a special Veterans' Day race this weekend.

More than 50 veterans are expected to take on their old rivals at Hednesford Hills Raceway, near Cannock, on Sunday starting at 1.30pm. Race fans will be celebrating 51 consecutive seasons of racing .

by Marion Brennan

The quarter-mile oval is reputed to be Europe's finest short circuit track and is steeped in racing history.

Its founder Bill Morris, who lived in Hill Street, Hednesford, brought hot rod racing to Britain after visiting the USA in the 1950s and went on to found tracks around the country.

The venue, now run by promoters Incareace, will host the Veteran Unlimited Bangers race.

The regular Incarace bangers will also be on the bill and the Classic Hot Rods, enjoying arguably their best season ever, will contest the Bill Morris Memorial Trophy. His son Martin, the UK's first National Hot Rod driver, will be present at the meeting held in his father's memory.

It will also see old-style push and shove racing with the return of the Street Stox formula. Among the other attraction will be a display of classic Escorts and Fords.

For a bit of fun, a new push-me-pull-you car has been built by locals Darren and David Owen to mark the anniversary of a similar car which used to entertain race-goers in the early years.

Megan celebrates wheelchair gift

A YOUNG girl with spina bifida who struggles to walk has been given a new wheelchair thanks to a charity fundraising drive.

Eight-year-old Megan Aubrey, from Cannock, needs a wheelchair to get around.

A friend of the family, Tina Powell, completed a sponsored walk to raise enough money to buy the wheelchair.

Megan's mother Lorraine said: "We are so pleased with the new wheelchair. My cousin Sarah Davies knows Tina and that's when I heard she was doing a sponsored walk from Wolverhampton to Birmingham.

"She raised £1,000 and spent it on buying the wheelchair and donated it to Megan."

Mrs Aubrey said it was making life a lot easier for her daughter, who can walk with the help of sticks but after a while her legs get tired and she needs to use a wheelchair.

She added: "Megan likes her independence so this is great for her. She can get around in it and fall asleep in it." Earlier this year she was given a trike by the Staffordshire-based Caudwell Children charity.

Patrolman Mike turns into midwife on M6

HE is used to dealing with roadside emergencies but this was one scenario that did not appear on any training manual.

However, traffic officer Mike Fletcher delivered the goods, quite literally, when he was despatched to a car parked on a motorway sliproad near Cannock – and ended up turning midwife.

The 43-year-old rolled up his sleeves and helped to deliver a bouncing baby boy to the shocked but delighted parents.

The unflappable Highways Agency officer and his colleague Daryl Corbett were halfway through their night shift when they took the call from their regional control centre sending them to a woman reportedly in labour at junction 12 of the M6, between Cannock and Penkridge.

While Daryl put up signs and cones, Mike approached the frantic father-to-be who told him his wife was having a baby on the back seat.

Mike, based at the Hilton Park service station, said: "We weren't expecting things to be so far advanced. I'd never come across anything like that in my life. I don't have children of my own so I was trying to remember everything I'd ever seen on Casualty.

"I asked how far apart the contractions were - which meant nothing to me but I hoped it would reassure dad – then mum was shouting that it was coming and when I looked down sure enough there was the head."

Mike crouched down and supported the baby as he came out and cleared the infant's airway. "Fortunately he took a big gasp of air and started crying," he said. "We wrapped him in a blanket and as soon as the ambulance crew arrived we handed him over and went on our way."

Traffic officer Mike Fletcher – had to act as midwife on the motorway

Mike, of Parkside, Stafford, said:"It was just magic. I was in shock for quite a while but then I felt very honoured to have been able to help. Not many people will get to experience that. We did have to go for a strong coffee afterwards, though."

Their boss, John McTaggart,, said: "Our traffic officersare trained to be calm in a crisis and Mike and Daryl did an excellent job for the family. In every sense of the word, we deliver."

Pat happy to be back as member

SOROPTIMISTS

TWO new members have joined Cannock Soroptimists and president Janis Lomas told everyone how delighted she was that her first task during the club's Diamond Anniversary year, was to induct Pat Preece and June Bould into the Soroptimist family.

Pat has been a member of the club previously but a family health situation meant she had to resign her membership two years ago.

Members were delighted to welcome her back and she thanked members for the support they had given her and said she waslooking forward to getting involved with the Soroptimists again.

Pat is well known to many, having worked at St Luke's, formerly Walhouse School. Having taught many local children to play the piano, she has worked there voluntarily since retirement,helping children with their early reading skills.

June Bould told members she had been thrilled with the welcome they had given her at meetings she had attended.

Before she retired in July 2012 June's job was to support speech & language therapists, working at Cannock and Stafford Hospitals and also in the community.

Since retiring June volunteers in two local primaries supporting pupils with reading. She is looking forward to adding to her voluntary role by working with Soroptimists towards achieving their goal of creating opportunities to transform

Pet dog Annie is star of the show

Gill Shaw, from Pets as Therapy, with Annie

ETCHING HILL WI

ETCHING HILL WI had an inspirational talk by Gill Shaw from Pets as Therapy. She brought along her with her chocolate Labrador Annie.

She told members that every week, thousands of people in the UK benefited from the service provided by the charity's strong volunteer base.

Pet dogs and their owners undergo training and an assessment, which is carried out by a team of trained assessors. This establishes whether the pets have the correct temperament to become a visiting animal.

As well as visiting hospitals and hospices, nursing and residential homes, special and mainstream schools, they also deal with dog phobic children and patients in stroke rehabilitation situations.

It was a very interesting and informative talk and the members admired the work of the volunteers and the exceptionally good behaviour of Annie, who was the star.

Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month in the village hall at 7.30pm. For more details, call Cynthia on 01889 596050.

Enjoyable trip to Cotswolds

HEDNESFORD 'A' TG

THERE was no luncheon club in May due to the Cotswolds trip. It was a great success and it was pleasing to have members from Great Wyrley Guild as company.

The June Luncheon Club venue was the Chase Gate.

Members were disappointed that Diane Craig couldn't make the guild meeting to talk about the benefits of physiotherapy, but look forward to her speaking later in the year. An enjoyable social beetle dive was held instead.

June's guild meeting featured a talk by Keith Hardwick, a guide at Lichfield Cathedral.

Later in June four guild members will be attending the National Townswomen AGM in Cardiff.

Libraries still need the professional touch – MP

Thumbs up for Dave's win

Kate Hadley, from the festival, store manager Paul Hill and Dave Fenton

SOMETIMES life just has a way of getting it right. On the day after his television set packed up, music fan Dave Fenton won a new 42in set.

The winner, from Brownhills, bagged the £400 LG model after buying raffle tickets at a mini music festival at Burntwood Rugby Club to raise funds for the Teenage Cancer Trust, supported by Stephen Sutton. The television was donated by the Apollo 2000 store in the Orbital Retail Park, Cannock. "We're really happy to support such a deserving charity" said manager Paul Hill.

"We're also delighted that the TV went to such a deserving cause as Dave who does a lot of charity work with Grass Roots Football. It's always nice when people like that get something back. "He was telling us his television had broken down the day before, so he was very chuffed."

AN MP is seeking to meet council chiefs over plans to staff libraries with volunteers.

Gavin Williamson, who represents South Staffordshire,wants to discuss proposed changes that could see many local libraries' existing staff replaced by community volunteers.

The plans would mean that more than half of Staffordshire's libraries were no longer run by the county council, potentially saving £1.3 million over three years.

South Staffordshire libraries that are currently under consideration for community management include Great Wyrley, Cheslyn Hay, Kinver and Brewood.

Three types of library are being suggested – dubbed library extra, library core and library local.

The library extra buildings would be shared with police and health services under the proposals.

Community-run libraries would come under the 'local' banner. The county council said a number of groups had already voiced an interest in taking over the running of their neighbourhood library.

Feasible

A three-month consultation into the future of the service will start next month.

But Mr Williamson said: "Whilst I very much welcome moves to keep all the current libraries open and also to involve volunteers, I do though believe there needs to be some type of professional oversight.

"For this plan to be feasible and for our libraries to continue to be run efficiently, we need, at the very least, one professional librarian to act as a co-ordinator over each local branch."

He added: "We also need to ensure that the scheme is sustainable in the long term and the service provided does not suffer."

Cabinet member for localism and communities Mike Lawrence has welcomed initial interest by volunteers.

Burma veteran celebrates as he reaches the age of 90

HE was one of the brave soldiers who took part in the campaign to free Burma from the Japanese army – and now war veteran Bill Vale has celebrated his 90th birthday.

Mr Vale, who held the rank of Lance Corporal, spent three years in Burma until the end of the Allied operation in 1945. The father-of-three, born in Birmingham and who now lives in Cannock, was enlisted in the Royal Warwickshire First Regiment

by Charlotte Lilley

and then the Royal Berkshire Second Battalion.

He said: "It was a scary time because I was only young and going off to fight is terrifying. It wasn't a nice experience at all and I have a lot of sad and some gruesome memories, but I fought for my country and I am proud."

The grandfather of seven had his memoirs published in a book called Slim's Burma Boys, which tells the story of soldiers in Burma.

He left the army in 1947 aged 23 and became a special constable with Staffordshire Police before marrying his late wife Joyce in 1952.

Mr Vale of Dorset Road in Heath Hayes, added: "I enjoyed my time with Staffordshire Police."

Mr Vale retired aged 65 and became a volunteer with his wife, a former factory machinist, for Meals on Wheels.

His granddaughter Donna said: "Granddad was a volunteer for 10 years and after that he used to do voluntary visits to the elderly keeping them company and making them cups of tea."

Best Of Cannock

please Contact Mel Poole 01543 465315

Cannock is the most populous of three towns in the district of Cannock Chase in the central southern part of the county of Staffordshire in the West Midlands region of England.

Cannock lies to the north of the West Midlands conurbation on the M6, A34 and A5 roads, and to the south of Cannock Chase, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). Cannock is served by a railway station on the Chase Line. The town comprises four district council electoral wards whose populations in the 2011 census totalled 29,018.

The Cannock South ward includes the civil parish of Bridgtown, but the rest of Cannock is unparished.The Cannock urban subdivision is a built-up area north of the M6 Toll defined by the Office for National Statistics. Most of it is in Cannock Chase District and covers most of Cannock, Hednesford town, Heath Hayes and Wimblebury. The rest is in South Staffordshire District and covers most of Huntington and Wedges Mills.

Cannock has a reasonably sized town centre which includes some well known high street names. It also has outdoor and indoor markets and a shopping centre, however some of Cannock's other shopping facilities are to be found in out of town locations such as Longford Island Retail Estate and the Orbital Retail Park.

Cannock has a choice of nightclubs and bars, including Missoula (Used to be called Stones), Silks, Bank Bar & Lounge, Piques, Courtyard (used to be called Academy), Bar 77, Club Lounge, and Bar Sport, as well as several traditional pubs dotted around the town centre including the White Hart, The Royal Oak and Wetherspoons. There are also many restaurants, gastro pubs, and fast food establishments offering a wide choice of food.

Cannock has a leisure centre which contains a swimming pool and other sporting facilities. It also has an ice rink, Silverblades, although this is a small rink compared to other larger rinks to be found at Telford and Solihull. It also has a two-screen cinema which was recently renovated as part of an on-going attempt at redeveloping this part of the town centre.

FOCUS ON RUGELEY

Action! Carnival hopes for another bumper day

THOUSANDS of people are expected to descend on this year's Brereton Carnival as final preparations get under way.

A day at the movies is the theme for the event and organisers are hoping it will encourage more people to visit the town.

Last year's carnival, which was revived after a 26-year absence by Brereton & Ravenhill Association for Community Events (Brace), attracted 5,000 visitors.

By Charlotte Lilley

The carnival on July 12 will feature a procession of floats and bands setting off from Hawkins Logistics Yard in Redbrook Lane from 11am.

It will end up at Ravenhill Park where there will be attractions including beer tents, fairground rides, live music from the Rock Dogs, stilt walkers, group displays, raffles and refreshments.

Spokeswoman Natalie Pettitt said: "Preparations are going well and everything is coming along nicely now.

"Last year we had 5,000 people turn out in glorious sunshine for the carnival so we are hoping for even more this time around.

"This year we have got a lot more floats because that is one thing people said they wanted last year so we have listened to their feedback.

"There will be something for everyone so it doesn't matter if you are one or 100 because people of all ages will find something fun to see and do." An appeal to resurrect the carnival, which ran from 1977 until 1986, was launched in 2012.

Miss Pettitt said it brought the community together and attracted people to the town, bringing in business. She is appealing for volunteers to help out.

She added: "So many people have come forward to help out and businesses have been very generous donating prizes for our raffle, but we still need more stewards to man the car park and the grounds.

"Last year's carnival was such a success which was down to the work of the volunteers and this year's is going to be even bigger and better so if anyone can spare some time we would really appreciate the help."

Entry is free and parking is available in Wheelhouse Road. Details of the route can be found at www.brereton carnival.co.uk. To get involved email mariabraines@hotmail.com

Pub holds fun day to help military

A CHARITY day to raise funds for Help for Heroes is to take place at the Red Lion pub in Brereton on Saturday.

Coinciding with Armed Forces Day, the Main Road pub will hold with a car wash between 9am and 11.30am by the Rugeley Air Cadets.

A family fun day will run between noon and 6pm.

It will include a bouncy castle, face painting, stalls, karaoke and a barbecue.

At 3pm a white dove will be released in honour of fallen heroes.

Singer

The day is supported by all three cadet forces and there will be a raffle with prizes donated by businesses in Rugeley and Brereton.

During the evening there will be a singer in the bar.

Pub manager Steve Hay said: "I come from a military family and a lot of my locals are ex-services, so I wanted to do something to recognise their contribution especially as Rugeley has close ties with the Armed Forces."

James Robinson receives his award from college principal Mike Hopkins,

Building success for James

A TRAINEE bricklayer from Rugeley has scooped a top award in a regional construction competition.

James Robinson, 20, was named in the top two of the new entrant bricklaying category in the regional heats of the national construction competition SkillBuild 2014.

More than 100 construction trainees battled it out in their chosen trade with skills such as bricklaying, wall and floor tiling and painting and decorating being put to the test.

The competition, which is organised and supported by the Construction Industry Training Board (CITB) was held at South and City College, Birmingham.

The top 10 competitors will battle it out in the finals at the NEC in November.

Catherine Bullough, CITB sector strategy manager for the West Midlands, said: "There is some great construction talent in the region so we're looking forward to seeing what our young apprentices can do."

Lions get set to go quackers

RUGELEY Lions Club is preparing for its annual duck race which will be held in the town centre on Saturday.

Members spent the day clearing the river of debris with Staffordshire Search and Rescue Team in preparation for the event.

The first heat starts at noon with the final race taking place at 4pm.

People can buy ducks from Sweets and Treats, The Cake Tin Cafe, Three Wishes or Brewery Street Market Cafe and there will be a chance to buy them on the day.

Fairground rides, stalls and a face painter will be keeping crowds entertained throughout the day.

The club is also looking for suggestions where it can store its the Christmas sleigh.

It will be assembled on December 6 and will need a large area un which it can kept until December 20.

Time for tea at church

TEA and homemade cakes will be on offer at a Rugeley church event next weekend.

The summer tea party takes place at St John the Baptist church hall, Slitting Mill, from 2pm to 5pm on Saturday, July 5.

It will also feature floral displays, bric-a-brac, greetings cards and a grand draw. Admission is free.

Rugeley

A series of new sculptures are being planned for a major gateway into Rugeley. The group behind the idea hopes it will promote its local history.

These drawings show two of the sculptures planned for Horse Fair, where a £500,000 roadworks scheme is taking place.

Lea Hall and Brereton Collieries Memorial Society has drawn up the plans, which includes a mining mural and steel galloping horses.

The society is also behind the proposals for a £70,000 miners' tribute which will involve four 8ft-high sculptures being put on Globe Island to celebrate the town's rich mining heritage.

he hundreds of families in the town with links to the mining industry.

The location was at the centre of a dispute last year and police were called when a row at a town council meeting got out of hand.

Committee mMembers of Lea Hall and Brereton Collieries Memorial Society say they want to support the improvements being made in the town and help promote its rich history with a new series of sculptures.

It is not yet known how much the project might cost, but it is hoped funding can be secured in the form of grants.

Secretary Alex Smith , secretary of the society, said: "We have got some ideas and have taken them to the town council.

"One idea is for a series of galloping horses made out of steel which reflects Rugeley's past and the horse fair.

"Another idea is keeping with the mining theme, as Rugeley was a mining town, is to paint a mural showing miners walking in to their shifts.

"Another idea was to erect a steel deer sculpture using scrap iron. We want to promote Rugeley in a positive light.

We don't yet know how much it would cost but we would look to get funding from the lottery and heritage funds."

Sculptor Andy De Comyn, who created the Shot At Dawn statue at the National Memorial Arboretum at Alrewas, near Lichfield, has drawn up the designs. The 48-year-old said: "We've been looking at the different aspects of Rugeley's heritage.

"Someone mentioned there used to be antlers hanging from the railway bridge which is where the idea came for the stag and it links in with Cannock Chase.

"We also thought about having galloping horses. I'm really pleased with the designs. People have been very positive about them. We now need to put it to the town and see what they think."

School to hold fun day in memory of Stephen

INSPIRATIONAL teenager Stephen Sutton's old school is staging a family fun day in his memory to help his fund-raising total edge towards £5 million.

The Burntwood 19-year-old lost his brave battle with cancer last month.

And now Chase Terrace Technology College is staging the event on Sunday from 11am.

It will feature a classic car and motorcycle show, along with a car boot sale, raffle, tombola and barbecue. And there will also be a silent auction for a signed David Beckham book and Lewis Hamilton Formula One driver's boot.

Proceeds will go the Teenage Cancer Trust, which Stephen supported .

Stephen died on May 14 after capturing the nation's imagination and raising more than £4.5 million for the charity – a figure which continues to grow daily. The teenager had originally set a target of £10,000.

String

He created a bucket list to spread awareness to other young people that they should 'measure life by what they achieve, not how long they live'.

He gained a string of celebrity supporters, including stand-up comedian Jason Manford.

Stephen was given an MBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours list.

And a baby elephant born at West Midlands Safari Park earlier this month named Sutton after Stephen.

Yellow ribbons are still tied on railings and lampposts and outside homes around his home town in Burntwood.

A fun run to honour of Stephen is to be held. Organisers of the Race for Stephen event said he had urged them to press ahead – even if he was not around to see it take place. The first event was held at Chasewater last October. Sharon Whitchurch, chairman of the Forward Action Burntwood charity, said "Early this year we started to plan the second Race for Stephen and discussed with Stephen the plans we had to make it an even bigger success. Stephen expressed a wish that, no matter what happened, the event was still to take place."

The race will be at Chasewater at 11am on July 27. Entry forms are available by emailing faburntwood@outlook.com.

Registration costs £10 per person or £20 per family.

Phillip Schofield

The Cube: Celebrity Special (ITV, 7.30pm)

Mollie King from the Saturdays tackles a series of fiendishly difficult challenges as she tries to win up to £250,000 for her chosen charity. Cheered by on bandmates Una Foden, Frankie Sandford, Rochelle Humes and Vanessa White in the studio, the singer is under intense pressure to hold her nerve and avoid slip-ups inside The Cube. Back in 2012, Mo Farah became the first contestant to walk away with the jackpot – a feat nobody else has managed since. How will Mollie compare to the Olympic gold medallist? Phillip Schofield is on hand to provide words of encouragement.

Terry Gilliam and John Cleese

Imagine: Monty Python – And Now for Something Rather Similar (BBC1, 10.35pm)

Eric Idle once joked that the Monty Python team would only get back together if Graham Chapman came back from the dead. There's been no sign of a Lazarus-like resurrection from the pipe-smoking sixth member of the team, and yet back in November the comedy group announced a one-off show at London's O2. Demand was so high that more dates were quickly added yet Cleese and co have been at pains to point out that this is not only a reunion – it's also a farewell. The Pythons have decided this will be the last time they'll work together as a group. Alan Yentob catches up with each member to give them the Spanish Inquisition, talking about individual projects.

Old friends get ready to take to the stage

Monty Python's Flying Circus is no more. It has ceased to be. It is an ex-comedy programme.

But five of the six men who made perhaps the most surreal series in the history of British TV – John Cleese, Terry Gilliam, Michael Palin, Eric Idle and Terry Jones – are still alive and kicking, and on Tuesday begin a 20-day residency at the O2 in London.

Tickets were like gold dust, with extra dates added to keep the hoards of fans happy who desperately wanted to see their ageing heroes in action one last time. We're promised that even Graham Chapman, who died in 1989, will appear via archive footage on a huge video screen.

It should almost feel as if they've never been away, despite the fact they've all carved out very different careers since their last project, the controversial Meaning of Life in 1983 (although the musical Spamalot was supported by all the Pythons and was based on the film Monty Python and the Holy Grail, it was the brainchild of Idle only).

But why get back together at all?

"Purely financial," admits Palin. "We've had this court case hanging around when one of the producers of The Holy Grail decided he needed a bit more of the cut from Spamalot – and court cases don't come cheap. Something had to push us into it!

"But the speed at which the tickets sold was astounding to us all. So, there are a lot of friends of Python out there."

As anybody who tuned in to the original show will tell you, it really WAS something completely different. What other programme offered funny walks in Ealing, a member of the Spanish Inquisition known as Cardinal Fang, a dead Norwegian parrot, nun boiling in Doncaster, Hell's Grannies in Teddington and a provocative fish-slapping dance down the docks?

However, Python nearly didn't exist at all. Instead, it could have been called The Toad Elevating Moment or Owl Stretching Time, both of which were rejected by the BBC. But whatever the name, the brand of humour would have remained the same – and no doubt have still gone on to influence thousands of comedians.

Initially, the series was meant as a vehicle for Cleese and Chapman, who had worked successfully together on The Frost Report. But Cleese wasn't keen on the idea of a two-handed show, and so approached Palin. He, Jones, Idle and Gilliam were supposed to be working together on an ITV series, but when it stalled, he suggested the four of them could join Cleese and Chapman at the BBC – and so Monty Python was born.

Their bizarre form of humour, inspired in part by their mutual love of The Goons on radio and Spike Milligan's TV series Q, was quickly branded 'surreal' by some, although that didn't nearly describe it well enough. And so, a new word was needed – hence the creation of the term 'Pythonesque'.

Here, Alan Yentob meets Cleese, Gilliam, Palin, Idle and Jones as they prepare to take to the stage together, 40 years after the Python TV show's demise. He also asks them about their individual projects from the past, present and future.

The Pythons' preparations for their reunion shows, Imagine: Monty Python – And Now for Something Rather Similar, Sunday, BBC1, 10.35pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
The Cost of Cheap Alcohol: Channel 4 Dispatches
Channel 4, 8pm
Once upon a time, anyone wanting to buy in a substantial amount of cheap alcohol ready for a World Cup barbecue might have gone on a 'booze cruise' to France. Now they're more likely to pop down to the local supermarket, where multipack deals and falling prices mean you can pay as little as 70 pence for a pint of lager – and there are also plenty of bargains in the spirit and cider aisles. And while this may not be great news for the nation's landlords and ferry operators, should the rest of us be concerned as well? Antony Barnett counts the cost of alcohol-related crime, violence, accident and diseases, which is believed to run into billions.

Police Under Pressure
BBC2, 9pm
These are difficult times for most of Britain's police forces as they try to absorb some substantial budget cuts, but as the first in this two-part documentary revealed last week, South Yorkshire Police are facing more challenges than most. Its reputation has been tainted by Hillsborough tragedy, while its crime figures are among the worst in the country – and unless the statistics improve, the force runs the risk of being taken over by government inspectors. With access to officers on the ground, as well as those in charge, the programme looks at how morale has been affected, and also examines the divisions among the senior ranks about how best to turn the force around in just six months.

TUESDAY
Love Your Garden
ITV, 7.30pm
Alan Titchmarsh comes to the aid of a couple who founded a charity to support bereaved families after the loss of their 23-month-old son. Claire and Ian Estick have a busy schedule fundraising and running their organisation, meaning their large L-shaped garden has become a confused mix of children's play equipment, a neglected greenhouse and overgrown shrubs and trees. Alan and the team set about transforming it into four distinct spaces, featuring a kitchen garden and a tranquil seating area, and show viewers how to tackle a towering leylandii hedge.

WEDNESDAY
This Old Thing: The Vintage Clothes Show
Channel 4, 8pm
They say that fashion takes 20 years to come full circle, with trends re-appearing after that two-decade marker, but Dawn O'Porter thinks we shouldn't bother waiting – trawling the country's vintage shops will find us all the unique, beautifully made clothing items we could ever ask for, and set us apart from the crowds. In tonight's episode, Dawn meets Emma from Reading, who loves high-street clothes but has lately been feeling dissatisfied with her lacklustre wardrobe. Meanwhile, Dawn's sewing workshop does wonders for an old bomber jacket, and she gets to work on a 1940s tea dress. The presenter also takes a look back through the fashion archives to explain all about the maxi dress, and how the brashness of the 1980s still resonates today.

The Betrayers
ITV, 9pm
From false identities to bogus terminal illnesses, this documentary tells the stories of people who have been duped by loved ones. David Checkley swindled more than 30 women out of hundreds of thousands of pounds, using their money to fund a luxury lifestyle. Public school-educated Alistair Stewart posed as a billionaire former Goldman Sachs banker and conned property broker Nina Siegenthaler out of $1million, while the relatives of a dying man were targeted by Beth Hood, who faked cancer for her own gain. Narrated by Reece Shearsmith.

James Corden Does Deal or No Deal, Friday, Channel 4, 8pm

THURSDAY
The Honourable Woman
BBC2, 9pm
New series. As a young girl, Nessa Stein witnessed the assassination of her Zionist arms dealer father by the Palestinian Liberation Organisation. Now in her thirties, she is at the forefront of the Middle East peace process, but when her company awards a lucrative contract to a Palestinian businessman who is later found dead, she and her brother Ephra find themselves under the close scrutiny of Whitehall and MI6. Political thriller written and directed by The Shadow Line creator Hugo Blick, starring Maggie Gyllenhaal, Stephen Rea, Eve Best, Lindsay Duncan and Andrew Buchan.

FRIDAY
James Corden Does Deal or No Deal
Channel 4, 8pm
For those of us on the outside, this show can look like the nuttiest thing since the invention of peanut butter. However, for those playing the game in the studio, it's like life or death as 22 contestants hope to win a fortune from the 22 boxes in front of them. Noel Edmonds is committed as ever, carrying on the Banker façade like a man yearning to win a Bafta for best dramatic performance. It's hard for anyone weaned on Swap Shop and Noel's House Party, not to love Edmonds. He has turned a hit US game show into something very British: cheaper, less glitzy than its US counterpart, and as bonkers as a Harry Hill sketch. Would we have it any other way?

Rear-wheel drive thrills

By Iain Dooley

The performance-focused 2 Series injects some welcome sparkle into BMW's new compact coupe line-up.

What's new?: This M235i variant is the quick version of BMW's new 2 Series Coupe. Since a recent naming reshuffle, you're excused for thinking that you're looking at a 1 Series Coupe. Honestly, this is the 'new' 2 Series.

And for buyers seeking proper rear-wheel drive thrills without having to sell a kidney, the M235i is the closest most of us will get to a similar car sporting an 'M' badge. Yes, an M2 is on the way but, until then, you've got the M235i – likely a more rounded and sensible choice if you've only got space for one performance BMW in your life.

Looks and image: It's not difficult to tell the difference between this M235i and a cooking diesel variant. The former has clearly been at the box marked Shredded Wheat, what with its beefy bodykit, low and purposeful stance plus those equally businesslike chunky wheels and tyres.

It's a little less in-your-face in the car's cabin, but the sports seats, M car-like steering wheel and subtle graphics ensure you don't forget what this car is capable of. Crucially, for all the talk about genuine M cars, this M-lite version offers a good balance of comfort and sportiness in the real world.

Space and practicality: If there's one thing that the M235i does share with its slower siblings, it's the fac t that it's a surprisingly practical car for a compact coupe. Granted, space for rear seat occupants is less than great, but it boasts a good size boot and there's ample storage space in the cabin for all the tat associated with leading an active life.

Embraced

Behind the wheel: From being a maker of rev-happy cars, BMW has fully embraced turbocharging with its latest range of performance motors.

The M235i is no different, and its 3.0-litre straight-six petrol engine benefits from turbocharging to the tune of 322bhp. That figure is plenty to get you to the horizon in a hurry, while the rasping from the exhaust ensures your journey is always entertaining.

Crucially the M235i is a doddle to drive at modest speeds, while pushing harder reveals a car eager to please. Only when you really lean on it, does it show its hand as a hooligan.

That trick BMW approved tuning bits can be bought to further enhance the experience should please the hardcore fans, while you'll also want to pay a little extra for the slick eight-speed auto gearbox as the six-speed manual 'box lacks polish.

Value for money: It's all relative of course, but in the world of premium hot hatches – or coupes – the M235i should be at the top of your shopping list. It possesses great road manners, is fun and engaging and is docile enough to double as regular transport to the shops and the office.

Base trim is a little, well, basic, but you'd be wise to spend your cash on the extra tuning bits instead of fancy paint or gadgets.

Who would buy one?: Anyone who's been raised on a diet of hot hatches will like the M235i. It's a mature evolution of the breed yet retains that all-important 'edge' to keep you interested away from the city limits.

Thankfully its low-key looks don't scream performance so you'll rarely turn heads – good news if you want to have some fun but not telegraph it to every man and his dog.

Plus it's rear-wheel rive, which is an important characteristic in a world full of million horsepower front-drive hot hatches.

This car summed up in a single word: thrilling.

If this car was a ... surgical instrument, it would be a scalpel – precise, sharp and to the point.

New sporty Megane is hit on track and the road

By Sharon Walters

The tradition of exclusive, performance-oriented Renaultsport models continues with the unveiling of a new limited edition Mégane Renaultsport - 275 Trophy.

Following its recent facelift, the top-of-the-range Mégane now benefits from a technical upgrade and a bespoke look.

The new 275 Trophy is the latest in a line of limited edition Megane Renaultsports, which began with the 265 Trophy in 2011 and continued with the Red Bull Racing RB8.

Widely acclaimed both for its on-road performance, as well as its sublime track handling, the Cup chassis with limited slip differential comes as standard with the Mégane Renaultsport 275 Trophy.

To allow customers to appreciate the car's dynamic qualities even further, Renaultsport's engineers have worked extensively on its powerplant to extract yet more power, leading to an additional 10 horsepower. The two-litre turbocharged petrol engine consequently boasts 275hp, and peak power is reached at 5,500rpm. At the same time, maximum torque (360Nm) is available across a broad rev-band, from 3,000 to 5,000rpm.

Despite this additional power, fuel consumption and emissions have been carefully contained to stand at just 37.7 mpg* and 174g of CO2/km respectively.

Renaultsport and Akrapovič, the manufacturer of benchmark exhaust systems for motorcycles and performance cars, have marked their association with the standard fitment of a titanium exhaust system. In addition to benefiting from the lighter weight of titanium, Mégane Renaultsport 275 Trophy also features a specific, more raucous bark that is sure to appeal to those who appreciate sporty engine notes.

Partnership

Mégane Renaultsport 275 Trophy kicks off a partnership with the world-renowned damper manufacturer, Öhlins. The limited edition car can be specified with optional adjustable Öhlins Road & Track dampers with steel springs. This evolution of technology employed in motorsport and on the Mégane N4 rally car, allows drivers to adjust their damper settings easily and unaided.

Also available as an option for Mégane Renaultsport 275 Trophy for those who enjoy track days are MICHELIN Pilot Sport Cup 2 tyres. This ultra-high performance solution was developed jointly by Michelin and Renaultsport specifically for this new limited edition front-wheel-drive car.

The new livery includes Trophy branding on the silver F1-style silver blade, while the personalised body sides feature Trophy decals. Silver has also been selected for the chequered flag graphic at the bottom of the doors. Meanwhile, numbered door sill guards are further evidence of its exclusivity.

Like the new signature engine note, the carbon exhaust tail pipe, too, is the work of Akrapovič. Optional 19-inch black Speedline Turini wheels derived from those used by competition versions of Mégane can also be ordered to complete the racy look. Inside, Mégane Renaultsport 275 Trophy comes with leather and Alcantara Recaro bucket seats with red stitching. The same hue of stitching has been carried over to the rear bench seat, while the headrests feature Renaultsport badging. Other interior highlights include visible red stitching for the Alcantara steering wheel trim and handbrake gaiter, as well as an alloy gear lever knob.

To be sold in 20 countries worldwide, the new halo model for the Megane range is set to make its UK debut at the Goodwood Festival of Speed 2014 in June.

UK pricing and specification details will be confirmed in June, with first deliveries arriving in the showrooms in October.

Brand-new diesel for Mazda2

Mazda confirms its all-new Mazda2 will debut with the SKYACTIV-D 1.5, a brand-new 1.5-litre clean diesel engine, when the convention-challenging carmaker introduces its next-generation B-segment model, to be initially launched in Japan.

First unveiled in March at the Geneva International Motor Show alongside the Mazda Hazumi concept (the basis for the all-new Mazda2), the SKYACTIV-D 1.5 shares much with its award-winning sibling: The SKYACTIV-D 2.2 clean diesel is available for the Mazda CX-5, Mazda6 and Mazda3.

The SKYACTIV-D 1.5 was developed in the pursuit of ideal combustion despite a very low compression ratio. As a result, the engine boasts outstanding dynamic performance from standstill to its unusually high redline.

New innovations for the small-displacement newcomer to the SKYACTIV range include an expanded homogenous lean burn range, even less mechanical resistance, and new insulation technology to counter the increased cooling loss associated with a smaller engine. So it's exceptionally efficient and clean, delivering top-class fuel economy and emissions, and will comply with Euro 6 without needing pricey exhaust aftertreatment.

In addition to the SKYACTIV-D 1.5, the all-new Mazda2 will come equipped with the full line-up of SKYACTIV technology.

Great value package with reliable cars

It's hard to think of a more reliable, better-built budget buy than a Suzuki.

For the used buyer, the marque'sproducts offer lots of car for the money '' and come with the back-up of the company's 'Suzuki Care' approved used scheme.

A twelve-month mechanical breakdown insurance (MBI) policy is included with every car. This covers allcomponents (excluding catalytic converters) and has no limits on mileage. There's no limit on the claims you can make under it either, provided you don't exceed the price you paid for the car.

To make sure that high standards are kept by all dealers participating in the scheme, Suzuki and warrantycompany managers make regular quarterly visits to each one.

Suzuki Care covers Suzuki vehicles and other makes of up to ten years in age with up to 100,000 miles on theclock. Before going on sale, every car undergoes an extremely thorough workshop check. You'll get a copy of the results of this in your paperwork when you take delivery.

In addition, there are all kinds of provenance checks into the car's previous history, including mileage verification, checks for outstanding finance and verification that the car has never been involved in an accidentor reported stolen. Should any of these be proved inadequate within a month of delivery, you'll get your money back. Finally, you get insurance that will cover you should your car fail its first MoT test.

Suzuki Care includes a 12-month breakdown package provided by the RAC. A replacement car will be provided within four hours if the RAC technician decides your vehicle is undriveable and then, if your onward journey will take more than eight hours, the costs of travel by rail or air are covered.

This is a clear, carefully thought-out scheme but Suzuki has put in place a 24 hour helpline, just in case there are any queries. It should all add up to peace of mind you wouldn't expect at the price.

Drivetime

A drop-top from Audi is a breath of fresh air for summer

By Edward Parker

With the sun showing its face, can Audi's drop-top A3 emulate its tin-top cousin when it comes to winning the hearts, minds and chequebooks of prospective buyers?

That's the plan over the coming months, to see if the A3 Cabriolet can deliver on the important elements of compact hatch motoring – easy to drive and park, prove frugal at the pumps – while adding a ray of sunshine to the ownership experience once the roof is down.

The omens are promising: a white car with a black fabric roof couldn't offer a more contrasting appearance if it tried. If I can't get into the 'summer groove' with this pearly bright combination, there's no hope for my ambitions as a sun worshipper.

Being a Sport specification A3, it boasts a slightly lower ride height and firmer suspension set-up than the lower spec SE.

I've been here before with a regular A3 hatch and this combination is better than it sounds. That the car's optional 18in wheels (default is 17in) also don't appear to hamper the ride quality is proof that Audi has come along way in recent years when it comes to balancing a sporty ride with day-to-day comfort.

Insulation

Lift the car's fabric lid and, with a few exceptions, this car's like the regular three-door A3 so forgive the whistle-stop tour in favour of focusing on said fabric lid.

One particular benefit of Sport spec ownership is a three-layer roof boasting a greater level of insulation over the standard item on lesser models. Certainly, with the roof up the cabin ambience is suitably refined, although nothing short of a metal folding roof will come close to a genuine tin-top experience, whatever the car.

Of greater importance is the usability angle, and it doesn't get any easier than pressing the roof switch for 17 seconds and watching the top disappear into a dedicated space above the car's boot. That you can raise and lower the roof at up to 31mph is a welcome bonus, although installing the (optional) wind deflector does render the rear seats out of bounds. Rear leg space is modest at best though, so it's no great loss.

Pleasingly

On a more positive refinement note, engine choice is Audi's new 1.4-litre petrol unit complete with 'Cylinder on Demand' mode.

This 140 horsepower unit is pleasingly quiet and delivers ample urge so long as expectations are sensible. However, to boost economy and reduce emissions, on a light throttle two of the four cylinders will shut down.

If it wasn't for the trip computer display alerting you to this 'twin-pot' running mode you'd struggle to notice, although those with keen senses will detect a slightly off-beat engine resonance.

And it's no gimmick; the instant fuel economy readout often jumps to 100-plus mpg around town, with the result that early running has seen close to 50mpg on a 30-minute mixed-road run.

If that's not hi-tech enough to impress, I've also got Audi's hi-spec optional infotainment system to play with.

This car summed up in a single word: Summery.

over 3000 quality used cars from £3,000 to £23,000 all with the AvailableCar Provenance.

over 700 cars under £7000 or less than £141 per month with nil deposit.

Rear-wheel drive thrills

By Iain Dooley

The performance-focused 2 Series injects some welcome sparkle into BMW's new compact coupe line-up.

What's new?: This M235i variant is the quick version of BMW's new 2 Series Coupe. Since a recent naming reshuffle, you're excused for thinking that you're looking at a 1 Series Coupe. Honestly, this is the 'new' 2 Series.

And for buyers seeking proper rear-wheel drive thrills without having to sell a kidney, the M235i is the closest most of us will get to a similar car sporting an 'M' badge. Yes, an M2 is on the way but, until then, you've got the M235i – likely a more rounded and sensible choice if you've only got space for one performance BMW in your life.

Looks and image: It's not difficult to tell the difference between this M235i and a cooking diesel variant. The former has clearly been at the box marked Shredded Wheat, what with its beefy bodykit, low and purposeful stance plus those equally businesslike chunky wheels and tyres.

It's a little less in-your-face in the car's cabin, but the sports seats, M car-like steering wheel and subtle graphics ensure you don't forget what this car is capable of. Crucially, for all the talk about genuine M cars, this M-lite version offers a good balance of comfort and sportiness in the real world.

Space and practicality: If there's one thing that the M235i does share with its slower siblings, it's the fac t that it's a surprisingly practical car for a compact coupe. Granted, space for rear seat occupants is less than great, but it boasts a good size boot and there's ample storage space in the cabin for all the tat associated with leading an active life.

Embraced

Behind the wheel: From being a maker of rev-happy cars, BMW has fully embraced turbocharging with its latest range of performance motors.

The M235i is no different, and its 3.0-litre straight-six petrol engine benefits from turbocharging to the tune of 322bhp. That figure is plenty to get you to the horizon in a hurry, while the rasping from the exhaust ensures your journey is always entertaining.

Crucially the M235i is a doddle to drive at modest speeds, while pushing harder reveals a car eager to please. Only when you really lean on it, does it show its hand as a hooligan.

That trick BMW approved tuning bits can be bought to further enhance the experience should please the hardcore fans, while you'll also want to pay a little extra for the slick eight-speed auto gearbox as the six-speed manual 'box lacks polish.

Value for money: It's all relative of course, but in the world of premium hot hatches – or coupes – the M235i should be at the top of your shopping list. It possesses great road manners, is fun and engaging and is docile enough to double as regular transport to the shops and the office.

Base trim is a little, well, basic, but you'd be wise to spend your cash on the extra tuning bits instead of fancy paint or gadgets.

Who would buy one?: Anyone who's been raised on a diet of hot hatches will like the M235i. It's a mature evolution of the breed yet retains that all-important 'edge' to keep you interested away from the city limits.

Thankfully its low-key looks don't scream performance so you'll rarely turn heads – good news if you want to have some fun but not telegraph it to every man and his dog.

Plus it's rear-wheel rive, which is an important characteristic in a world full of million horsepower front-drive hot hatches.

This car summed up in a single word: thrilling.

If this car was a ... surgical instrument, it would be a scalpel – precise, sharp and to the point.

My dearest special Mom, it hurts so much inside me, I don't know what I'll do, but way down deep inside my heart I know you'll guide me through.

Your loving face I'll see no more, your voice I will not hear but then I'll just close my eyes and know that you are near, for part of me went with you that day God called you home.

I will love and miss you always, God bless.

Mom
1921 - 2014

My Mom up in Heaven, I wanted you to know, I feel you watching over me everywhere I go, I wish that you were here with me but that can never be, memories of you are in my heart that only I can see, so Mom, if I could hold your hand just once more, I would give anything to have you back here with me.

Love you always, Daughter Sheila and Son-in-law Dave.

1921 - 2014

I'm sending a dove to Heaven with a parcel on it's wings, be careful when you open it, it's full of beautiful things, inside are a million kisses wrapped up in a million hugs, to say how much I miss you and send you all my love.

I hold you close within my heart and there you will remain, to walk with me thoroughout my life until I see you again.

Loving Daughter Maureen and Son-in-law Derek and Family.

Wood is star as side glide to victory

Wolverhampton 4ths 102
Cannock 2nds 103-1

CANNOCK completed a comfortable victory at home to Wolverhampton by nine wickets.

After winning the toss Cannock elected to field. Wolverhampton were well placed at 92-2 before a spell of 7-1 by Dan Wood saw the innings close at just 102 all out.

Cannock made short work of chasing down the winning target in just 20 overs with Adam Evans scoring 55no and Mike Chadderton 26 no.

Coseley 2nds 127
Cannock 3rds 132-8

Cannock recorded their second win of the season over high-flying Coseley in a low scoring game at Chase Park. Winning the toss and fielding Cannock took regular wickets and, despite a run rate of four per over, Coseley were all out for 127 after just 35 overs. Cannock suffered a regular fall of wickets and found themselves requiring 12 with just two wickets remaining before Paul Martin finished things off with a 4 and a 6

Cannock 4ths 191-7
Penkridge 4ths 155-8

Cannock gained the winning draw over Penkridge after scoring 191-7 Penkridge managed to survive with eight wickets down.

Young team serve up league success

Tennis

CHESLYN Hay Tennis Club junior section are celebrating a fantastic team performance to win the AEGON Staffordshire Division 1 Under-14s, the top Junior league in the county.

Despite the club only being formed in 2012, the young players punched above their weight to win a league which included well-established performance clubs including David Lloyd Dudley, Wolverhampton and Stourbridge.

The league was clinched in the final match with a 5-1 rubber win against David Lloyd Dudley by James Clark, Michael Gallear, Michael Dowling, Joel Harvey and Sam Clarie.

James Perrin who co-ordinates the under-14 team, said: "The young people from the club have shown a great desire to improve their own game. All the players have particularly enjoyed playing in a team environment. While the club is very proud of their achievements, we offer tennis for all abilities."

Anyone interested in Junior Tennis or Adult Tennis see cheslynhaytennis.weebly.com or contact Chris Perrin on 07969 829318.

Free Sunday tennis sessions have started for players of all ages at Hednesford Park.

More than 40 new players took part in organised tennis by qualified coaches from Cheslyn Hay Tennis Club, with support from WLCT's Sports Development team and Cannock Chase Council.

This is continuing every Sunday from this weekend until July 27 and is planned to continue afterwards.

There are three hour-long sessions each Sunday as part of the Great British Tennis Weekend: Mini Tennis for five to 10-year-olds, 10-11am and noon-1pm; Junior Sportivate Tennis for 11 to 16-year-olds, 11am-noon; Tennis Xpress coaching sessions for over-16s, noon-1pm.

Chris Perrin, who leads tennis activity at Hednesford Park alongside other coaches and leaders, said: "We have been amazed by the take-up for the sessions."

Advanced booking is highly recommended. Go to tiny.cc/hednesfordtennis, email cheslynhaytennis@live.com or phone Chris Perrin on 07969 829318.

Smith is keen to hold on to Brandy

SHEFFIELD United winger Febian Brandy has again been linked with a possible return to Walsall.

The Saddlers are among several clubs said to have enquired about the winger after Blades boss Nigel Clough last month confirmed he would listen to offers for the 25-year-old.

Brandy, who moved from the Saddlers to Yorkshire 12 months ago, spent the second half of last season back at the Banks's on loan after struggling to establish himself in the United first team.

Walsall boss Dean Smith is keen to bring Brandy back permanently but the move is dependent on both clubs coming to an agreement and, with a year left on his contract, the Blades are likely to demand a fee.

Meanwhile, defender Paul Downing stressed the importance of a quick start. Their hopes last term were dashed by a disastrous run of just two wins from the final 17 games.

"You kind of forget about that (the slump) in the off season, though I suppose the start of the season is going to be important," said the centre-back.

Buying buzz as Dean goes for firepower

DEAN SMITH is continuing his hunt for more firepower after signing Tom Bradshaw – with Walsall braced for another possible Will Grigg cash boost.

On Monday, Bradshaw became the first new face on the Saddlers forward line this summer when he penned a two-year deal at the Banks's Stadium.

Football

The 21-year-old, a former Wales Under-21 international, rejected an offer to stay at Shrewsbury and the deal went through after the clubs agreed a compensation package.

It is the second time in a fortnight the Saddlers have paid a 'fee' for a player, after prising promising goalkeeper Craig MacGillivray from non-league Harrogate Town.

Coffers

And Smith could yet see his coffers boosted further following reports Grigg, who departed the Saddlers 12 months ago for Brentford, could be on the move to Bristol City.

Under the terms of the tribunal following last summer's switch, the Saddlers have a 20 per cent sell-on clause for any transfer from the Bees.

Brentford are reported to want £300,000 for the Northern Ireland international.

That money would further help Smith as he looks to further rebuild the forward line which misfired last season following the loss of Grigg and Jamie Paterson.

The Saddlers boss has stated he ideally wants around three new attackers this summer, with Bradshaw being the first to arrive.

"I'm looking to maybe get three in there," said Smith. "Three who can play up there.

"Last season the players we had up there were quite good at rotating among themselves and we will be looking to do that again," added Smith

Bradshaw netted seven times in 30 appearances for Shrewsbury last season but missed three months of the campaign, in which the Shropshire side were eventually relegated, with a knee injury.

Smith saw him in action against the Saddlers three times last season, twice for the Shrews first team and then finally in for the reserves in April as he was recovering from injury and aiming to get match fit again.

"He's a player that has always caught my eye whenever he has played against us at various levels or I have watched him," said Smith.

"I believe that we can further develop him here and really bring the best out of him; he's a good age," Smith added.

Sponsor gives squad a fighting chance

A CANNOCK martial arts squad is over the moon after landing a huge sponsorship deal.

GPS Electrical of Norton Canes has sponsored the squad at Emil Herzberg Martial Arts Academy (EHMAA) which trains at Pye Green Community Centre, Hednesford.

Gary Partridge owner of the company and a member of EHMAA has handed the young fighters a full new fight uniform and bought equipment.

Fortunes mixed for swimmers

FOUR swimmers from the Royal Wolverhampton School Swimming Club had mixed fortunes in the recent Great North 5Km Open Water contest in Lake Windermere, Cumbria

Alice Dearing, Megan Carline, Tom Derbyshire and Toby Robinson were looking to qualify for the European Open Water Squad.

Dearing in the Junior group came second in 58.41 and qualified for the FINA World Junior Open Water championships in Israel. Carline, in the Youth, finished fourth in 1hr 58mins just missing selection. Derbyshire had to retire while Robinson on 54.27 was third junior overall and will go to Zagreb, Croatia in July.

Albion eye Snodgrass as bid fails

ALBION are considering a bid for £6m-rated Norwich midfielder Robert Snodgrass after they rejected a second offer from Derby for wantaway George Thorne.

The Baggies are keeping tabs on Snodgrass amid rumours that the Scotland international will leave Carrow Road this summer.

They have again told the Rams that Thorne is not for sale after turning down a bid of more than £1m on Monday night.

Reports the Baggies have entered talks with the Canaries over a deal for Snodgrass are premature, with Hawthorns officials yet to make their interest official. But the 26-year-old Glaswegian is on the club's summer watchlist.

Youthful signings to boost Saddlers

THE sums may not be mind-blowing but the signings of Craig MacGillivray and Tom Bradshaw are of some significance for Walsall, writes Matt Maher.

For the first time since they paid £4,000 to Chippenham Town for striker James Constable back in 2006, the Saddlers have stumped up fees, be it under the guise of compensation, to secure deals.

MacGillivray, aged 21, needed to be prised away from Harrogate Town after having agreed to remain with the Conference North club. Now striker Bradshaw, the same age, has been obtained despite the best efforts of Shrewsbury Town to keep him.

New Shrews boss Micky Mellon was keen for the former Wales under-21 international to form the focal point of his attack next season and the Shropshire club offered him a significantly improved deal.

But the pull of playing League One football and the chance to advance proved too much.The Saddlers boss will be confident of improving Bradshaw's game. Both parties will also benefit from a full pre-season of work and the length of the contract – two years – should also not be ignored.

Sisters power into national finals

Sailing

TWO sisters from near Wolverhampton will fly the flag for the region at a national powerboating final.

South Staffordshire Sailing Club's(SSSC) Kamila Czartolomna, aged 13, and nine-year-old sister, Aga won their respective age-groups at the Honda RYA Youth RIB Championship Regional Final at Draycote Water Sailing Club recently.

The siblings will now go head-to-head against the 13 other regional age-group champions at the Honda RYA Youth RIB national grand final at the PSP Southampton Boat Show on Sunday 14 September following their regional success in the 13-16 and 8-12 age groups respectively.

This is the third successive year that Kamila has qualified for the national final, but is the first time in the older age-group. Last year she finished a hugely impressive second overall in the 8-12 age-group at the Southampton showdown.

Aga, meanwhile, was making her Honda RYA Youth RIB debut this year and proved that calm under pressure runs in the family by clinching victory. Both girls first got the opportunity to powerboat through SSSC, where they have been members for five years.

Now in its 13th year, the Honda RYA Youth RIB Championship is Britain's leading programme introducing kids to powerboats and training them to be safe, proficient drivers and excellent boat handlers.

Rigid inflatable boats (Rib) are light, manoeuvrable craft and the boats driven in the Honda RYA Youth Rib Championship can reach 25mph. The youngsters compete in time trials around sets of marks. The stop-start obstacle proved a stumbling block for Kamila on her first run, as she picked up 15 penalty points.

But, despite the pressure being on, the Perton Middle School youngster recovered brilliantly to nail a clean second run in what proved to be a winning 1m12s.

Sandown First School pupil Aga also learned from her mistakes in her first run to deliver an error-free, victorious second in 2m 12s.

Kamila said: "I'm so happy and excited to have qualified for the national final again."

We will get the right men – Holden

DEFENDER Dean Holden has expressed confidence that Walsall's new arrivals will be the right men for the club.

Manager Dean Smith made his second signing of the summer over the weekend when experienced defender James O'Connor penned a one-year deal.

And the Saddlers boss remains hopeful of completing at least one more deal in the coming days.

Walsall had already snapped up highly-rated young keeper Craig MacGillivray before landing O'Connor, who has spent the past four seasons in the Championship with Derby County.

Smith has a significant rebuild on hand after opting to release last season's top scorer Craig Westcarr and then losing influential skipper Andy Butler.

But veteran defender Holden, who has signed as a player-coach for next term, believes the manager and his assistant Richard O'Kelly will bring in players who are right for the club – both in quality and character.

"The ones who come in will be the right ones for Walsall," he said.

"They will be team players. there are no prima donnas, no superstars," insisted Holden.

England will now head back to face the flak

England 0 Costa Rica 0

ENGLAND'S World Cup finished as it began. In all three games, Roy Hodgson's team has done enough to author a very different story at Brazil 2014.

But in finishing goalless against Costa Rica in their 'dead rubber' closing fixture, they provided a perfect parting image of a campaign of under-fulfilment.

Football

England made all the running against Group D's surprise winners and created the chances of significance.

But, just as against Italy and Uruguay, they came up short in the critical moments.

There is no hiding from the conclusion that so many have been drawing away from the tedious hysteria demanding heads roll – in the critical moments in either penalty area, England are just not good enough.

It adds up to the chronic tale of disappointment that is England's companion for nearly 50 years of World Cups. That suggests there is more to resolving this despair than hoping and praying for a better run of the ball.

And yet, it is so easy to go down that route. As England dominated this game against an energetic Costa Rican team built around the virtues of the counter-attack, Uruguay were squeezing past the Italians in their contentious final fixture thanks to a goal scored by captain Diego Godin.

In a parallel universe, Godin would not have been on the pitch against Italy but he escaped a suspension – and more pertinently a very clear sending off – against England in one of the second game's decisive moments.

And this final fixture saw England again come out the wrong side of a refereeing decision. In the 28th minute, Daniel Sturridge was fairly obviously blocked off from shooting by Oscar Duarte .

Such moments aggravate England's sense of injustice, a grievance that goes back to when? Bobby Moore's jewellery 'theft' or Maradona's hand ball?

However, in a game of minimal opportunities, this doesn't explain Sturridge's second-half miss after a lovely exchange with Jack Wilshere and James Milner when he curled an effort the wrong side of the post.

Hodgson can brace himself for the predictable hostility that will greet such an underwhelming challenge, but that would be like blaming the man behind the wheel of a faulty car.

For the first two years of his tenure, he has been urged to commit to youth and risk whatever that may bring at this World Cup. He has done that.

Heathens smash club win record

CRADLEY smashed their club record win for the third time this season with a 72-18 thrashing of Scunthorpe.

The Heathens ran riot in what was always expected to be a one-sided clash against an inexperienced Stags side. Five of the Cradley side went through the card, with Perry, Starke, Worrall, Clegg and Greaves unbeaten.

They romped to an unprecedented 13 5-1s to claim a crushing win and add three more points to their National League tally.

An exclusion for Matt Williamson for bringing down Arron Mogridge and a third place behind Mogridge for Danny Phillips were the only blots on a near-perfect Heathens scorecard.

US pair in frame to snap up Villa

A VILLA buy-out is back on the cards amid news that two more American billionaires have discussed the project with Randy Lerner.

The US financiers Josh Harris and David Blitzer have a history in buying out and then reviving "distressed" sports businesses, and are now reckoned to be looking at a takeover of Villa.

They are the latest in a growing number of names being linked to the club since Randy Lerner formally declared his intention to sell.

The news will be treated with caution by Villa fans who have now grown accustomed to hearing the club linked with fanciful investment projects which fail to materialise.

But Harris and Blitzer are business contacts of Lerner and reports from the States are adamant an investment has been discussed.

The pair have been leading figures in sport projects as well as having a lucrative stake in the American Idol TV series.

Separate investment groups, of which Harris is a partner, bought out NBA side Philadelphia 76ers for $280m in 2011 and NHL franchise New Jersey Devils for $320m last year. Both are recovering from crises which led to the takeovers.

Smith looking for firepower

DEAN SMITH is continuing his hunt for more firepower after signing Tom Bradshaw – with Walsall braced for another possible Will Grigg cash boost.

On Monday, Bradshaw became the first new face on the Saddlers forward line this summer when he penned a two-year deal at the Banks's Stadium.

The 21-year-old, a former Wales Under-21 international, rejected an offer to stay at Shrewsbury and the deal went through after the clubs agreed a compensation package.

It is the second time in a fortnight the Saddlers have paid a "fee" for a player, after prising promising goalkeeper Craig MacGillivray from non-league Harrogate Town. And Smith could yet see his coffers boosted further following reports Grigg could be on the move to Bristol City.

Riders suffer first defeat on home patch

Speedway

MISFIRING Wolverhampton slumped to their first home defeat of the season at the hands of table-toppers King's Lynn.

A spectacular performance from Tai Woffinden was not enough to prevent his side from slipping to a 53-37 loss on a disappointing night.

The world champion was in inspired form fresh off the back of his British Final win last week, storming to four race wins from his five outings.

Yet he received minimal support from the remainder of the side, as Peter Adams' men were simply outclassed by a rampant King's Lynn.

Said Woffinden: "It was a tough night for us – we should have really won being at home but that's just the way it goes sometimes. I don't think all the boys were scoring the points they needed to, and against a strong side like King's Lynn that's what happens.

"It would have been nice to get the win as it would have put us third in the table, but there isn't anything we can do about it now.

"We've just got to put it behind us, put it down to a bad night and just look to move on as quickly as possible."There is still a long way to go and a lot of points up for grabs, so we'll just have to make up for it elsewhere and try to make the play-offs.

"From a personal point of view I had a good night – I was on a new engine which was really fast so things are looking up for me in the Elite League.

" As a team we need to try and put a string of results together and hopefully I can help us do that."

Wolves fought hard early on, with two wins for Woffinden backed up by impressive victories for Ricky Wells and Ty Proctor to give them a two point lead after five heats.

However, the same Proctor-Wells partnership conceded two 5-1s in quick succession to see the hosts fall six behind.

A classy win for Woffinden in heat ten moved them back within four and set up a nervy finale. But Wolves collapsed late on – conceding three consecutive 5-1s to leave then in disarray.

Woffinden did claim a classy win in heat 15 to help limit the damage, but it was too little too late as his side slipped to defeat.

Ty Proctor and Ricky Wells both faded

WARD BACK AS MOVE IN LIMBO

STEPHEN Ward has returned to pre-season training at Wolves with his fellow outcasts and his move to Brighton in limbo.

Ward, Roger Johnson, Jamie O'Hara, Georg Margreitter, Tongo Doumbia and Razak Boukari were due back with the rest of the squad at Compton for a breakfast-time run along the canal towpath as preparations begin for the new season.

Football

It's understood new Seagulls boss Sami Hyypia is keen to turn Ward's season-long loan into a permanent move after an impressive campaign at the Amex Stadium.

But the 28-year-old's chances of leaving Molineux for good are in the balance with Brighton unwilling to match the Ireland international's £13,000-a-week salary at Wolves.

Wages

The south coast club are understood to have paid £10,000-a-week towards Ward's wages last season, with Wolves picking up the rest.

But despite attracting the biggest crowds in the Championship, Brighton aren't the biggest Championship payers and they aren't willing to increase their outlay.

The other potential stumbling block is the fee, and Wolves will almost certainly demand a modest six-figure return for their longest-serving outfield player, who has a year left on his contract. The impasse on Ward comes as Wolves ushered back their 'outcasts' for pre-season, who all set to continue their exile under Kenny Jackett.

The Molineux head coach is keen to keep his League One champions separate to the players he wants out.

The six are likely to be training on their own after Jackett and his backroom staff decided they would need to cater for the big earners in the knowledge that their futures would be unlikely to be settled away from Molineux just yet.

Kevin Doyle has an extra week off after his extended season helping QPR win the Championship play-off final and playing for Ireland. Kevin Foley is fit again after his shoulder operation while Bjorn Sigurdarson is on loan at Molde until November.

It's unclear which group Foley will take part in, while new signings Tommy Rowe and Rajiv Van La Parra were due to join their teammates for the first time.

Wolves start pre-season light in backroom staff after departures of U21s coach Steve Weaver and U18s coach Mick Halsall. Interviews have started but it's understood Wolves aren't close to appointments.

Twitter swipe at Foster

FORMER Villa striker Stan Collymore has turned his fire on Albion keeper Ben Foster – and said he should not be playing for England.

Foster was one of the few England men to emerge with credit from the final group game at the end of a disappointing World Cup challenge.

But Collymore, making a name for himself as one of the game's most outspoken figures, took a swipe at Foster over his retirement from the international game earlier in his career.

He claimed that the third-choice keeper in Roy Hodgson's squad, Celtic's Fraser Forster, should have played instead when Hodgson decided to rest Joe Hart.

Cannock-born Collymore tweeted his view whilst commentating on the England v Costa Rica game for talkSPORT.

"Ben Foster shouldn't be keeping goal for #ENG tonight, Fraser Forster should. He's earned his chance, Foster hasn't IMO," tweeted Collymore.

To justify his view Collymore added: "1, Forster is better, 2 Foster turned his back on Eng, 3 point 2 means no way back for me."

Pitmen sign up Glover

HEDNESFORD Town have completed the signing of striker Danny Glover on a permanent deal.

The former Port Vale youngster ended last season on loan at Keys Park as the Pitmen missed out in the Conference North play-offs. The 24-year-old has now agreed terms for the next campaign.
